

Dear Betsy,

11/14/94

Those wonderful eating oranges came today and I'm so glad to have them and so appreciative ~~ya~~ of your (pl) generosity! I prefer them to grapefruit but I do not dislike grapefruit. I just enjoy the oranges so much more! Last week there were the first of the navel's I've ~~ss~~ seen in the local stores, other than overpriced and thick-skinned small ones from California. Those I got last week were probably picked too green because they are not even juicy. They look like from the Rio Grande Valley. Because I remember how good those from that orchard are, I look forward to the morning!

With many thanks!

I sent Bill a fat package this morning by Priority mail. I think I have a little more but I've not had time to clean it all up.

I think he'll recognize what it is. From two different books.

I've sent Bill my letter to the CIA asking for its records on me that it had and did not let me have and my later letter to the new board sitting on that. In today's mail I got from a friend the Archives printout on each thing on me the CIA disclosed. I'll be making a copy of it and return it to him. I'm too tired to look at it today but I'll start going over it in the morning. It is, as that friend told me, about 3/4" of paper.

I hope that Bill misses all the shoals, coral and rocks in his fishing.

Our thanks and our best,

Harold
