Dear Harold:

I have your March 15th letter in hand. Thanks for the directions.

If you have to get to the doctor on Friday, April 7th, why don't I just come over to your house about 8:30 a.m. I am not worried about any mileage charge on my car. I should not have any trouble finding your house. If I am a few minutes early, I will just sit in the driveway and wait for you.

I am pretty flexible. We can do whatever you and Lil feel like doing. I would like to make a few xeroxes of a small number of documents and spend a little while just looking through your files. I will also want to spend a little time discussing some of your books. I will be able to spend all day Friday and Saturday and most of Sunday with you and Lil. However, I want to emphasize that if you need to nap or visit the doctor, I am very flexible. I do not want to be a burden in any way.

It does seem like it has been forever since I have seen you both. I am looking forward to seeing you and giving you the "third degree."

We are revising your Wills. Powers of Attorney are a good idea. I would also like to see the Agreement you have with Hood College, if possible. One of the things I am concerned with is that your books remain available to the public at least in a limited way for the foreseeable future. As I understand it, Babe Ruth's family still gets royalties from the use of his name and likeness. So we want to be sure that Hood College will be able to hopefully make a profit while still making your books available.

See you soon.

Sincerely,

William L. Neichter
