Dear Lil and Harold:

Hope you like the calendars. We survived the New Year.

I take it from your last letter that you and Dave Wrone have some sort of a philosophical disagreement. However, from your enclosures I could not quite figure out what it is.

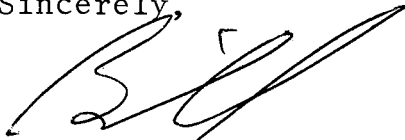

Thanks for the article on Arafat. I know he is not your favorite.

Enclosed is a copy of a letter I wrote to Dick Cooper, John Sherman Cooper's brother. I will let you know if I get any response.

I have been trading letters with Gerry G. on a regular basis.

Things are quiet and I am trying to organize some of the materials I have received from you and others. We bought a large file cabinet yesterday. I told Betsy this was the beginning of the "Weisbergization" of our basement. I think she shuddered at the truth of this statement.

Sincerely,

William L. Neichter
