

Dear Bill,

3/21/94

The other side of this sheet is what has given me a new burst of writing activity. And before you get this, maybe before I mail it, you'll have the second lengthy article I've recently written.

This I intend as an Afterword in the already very long NEVER AGAIN! And if that is not to be, as a record for history.

I was given copies of a few of the HSCA records disclosed last fall. In making a copy of pages to work from, this is an unnecessary page. Some of it is devastating. I started the writing.

Reur 3/18, the enclosures are interesting. Do I thank Betsy for that fine cartoon? Of which I'm making copies to send to others.

If you can when <sup>you</sup> return that VCR cassette, please indicate about where that Newman-CIA 20d stuff appears or better, if it does not take you too much time, leave it there so it will start when I turn it on. I have not yet learned really how to use this machine, I use it so little. Thanks if you can.

The fellow who says he worked in the Russell archive, as you will know if you read that article, got it wrong. Incredible as it may seem, neither Cooper nor Russell believed there had been a conspiracy and then had been kept so much in the dark they did not know that their own convictions meant there had been a conspiracy.

On the number of shot, which I've never tried to dope out, it is not reasonable to presume that silencers were not used. So, we have no way of knowing.

On that Cooper oral history, does he refer to Russell's and his strong disbelief in the single-bullet theory? I avoid going to the basement and what you sent me is there. I have one of his from the Russell archive at Athens, Ga.

It is futile to ask my publisher anything. I never get any responses even to my asking how I can help and making offers to. I cannot explain it. I think they decided to do it on the cheap in the hope my name alone would sell it. That, however, does not get it into the stores to be seen or tell shoppers in the stores what it is. My nearby Walden's did not even know about it a month after it was out.

The indications in the Washington papers is that Natcher is not expected to recover.

I just engaged a Hood student to retype what I've sent you and what I'll be writing.

Thanks, and out best,

Heidi
