Dear Bill,

By our usual schedule it is close to our early supprtime but Lil shows no sign of it so, having cleared up the rest of today's mail about books, to yours of the 25 and 26. Probably finish tomorrow. Tired. Been at it since 12:55 a.m.

I do not know of any scientific proof but 40 years ago I believe that range-raised chickens were healthier and raised them that way when I could. And they can taste better if they get foods other than the grains fed them, with additives.

In this instance I think Epstein is right. Thanks for the article. On the assassination he is a creature of the dead Angleton and did really very little work.

Lil will take care of the book business. I'm only the common labor on that.

In your letter to Merritt, outside the TSED mean the building touching it on its west side. Large shed type

It is an exaggeration to say that Russell and I became friends. He just encouraged my work and, as his assistant wrote, it is not that he agree with me but the opposite, I agreed with him on the S BT.

It was not a careless mistake. I believe incorrectly that the Cooper archive is at Louisville. Thanks. I'll correct it.

I do not believe a word Ragano said. He was saying the opposite until he was in trouble and then he started saying what he thought would be liked more and what he thought he could sell.

OOps. I missed another letter.

Mark
Thanks and best to you both,

Herb

Lil has books ready for me to package.

They'll be mailed Monday.
