Dear Harold:

If my mother knew how many letters I have written you, she would kill me! When I went to college, my mom gave me stamps and letter envelopes and begged me to write. I bet I never wrote her two letters in her life. So I get a chuckle when you get concerned when I fail to write for three weeks.

My parents live about two miles from the office, so I see my dad every day for lunch. So now I don't have to write them letters.

I hope the editing on Never Again is good. I also hope it contains some good pictures. I see Case Open, Selections and Accessories still on the bookshelves. I don't know if Bev Oliver's book is a C & G or not, I will check. The liner notes said at one time she did blame the death of a child on a JFK related Mysterious death, but now she knows the kid had a health problem! Gee whiz. There is also a book out now on the mysterious deaths. I guess that it doesn't include Tippit. In all seriousness, I have always considered Tippit's death one of the stranger things in the business. If Oswald did not do it, and you have convinced me he did not, who did? It is certainly hard to believe it was completely unrelated to JFK, but perhaps so.

A Kentucky state senator, retired, says she was Dr. King's paramour. Article enclosed, I also sent one to McKnight. She is very well respected, but Hosea Williams says she is a liar.

When you get the chance, send me 5 more copies of Whitewash II. Is Never Again going to have the Altgen's pic?

I am off to court in a little while, I was glad to read about the Broadway showgirls. I bet Lil doesn't know what to make of you sometimes. The closest thing I ever did like that, Betsy let me go to my high school reunion with an old girlfriend, it was better than making Betsy go!

Wrone told me recently that Ed Epstein was the most arrogant man he ever met. I thought Dave's speech to the history confab was some of the best short writing on the JFK murder ever. Dave told me there is no intellectual interest in the subject at his college. My old history prof has encouraged me, even thinks I am not a nut! Just sent him a copy of the Sen. Cooper letter, had never shown it to him. Perhaps he is openminded because he a Stanford educated lawyer and a PHD in history.

Say HI to Lil and take care.

Bill
