HAROLD WEISBERG

There has been no request received from the State Department for an investigation or a name check on Harold Weisberg. (100-351938)

June 23, 1947 The State Department advised that Weisberg was one of the ten employees to be dismissed on that date under the McCarran rider. (62-39749-913)

July 9, 1947 A memorandum from Assistant Attorney General Theron L. Caudle regarding the ten State Department employees which requested all material not previously furnished. (100-351938-2)

July 17, 1947 A memorandum from the Assistant to the Attorney General Douglas W. McGregor attaching a copy of a letter from the State Department dated July 11, 1947, listing the names of the employees dismissed by the State Department under the McCarran rider. He desired to know if there was any possible criminal prosecution in connection with these individuals. (100-351938-3)

August 5, 1947 A summary memorandum regarding Harold Weisberg which was furnished to the Attorney General. (100-351928-3)

September 6, 1947 A duplicate summary regarding Weisberg which was furnished to the Attorney General at his request. (62-39749-962)

November 18, 1947 An article appeared in the "Washington Post" on this date which stated that the State Department on the previous date had allowed seven of the dismissed State Department employees who had been dismissed for security reasons, to resign without prejudice. The State Department made this decision in order to avoid a possible injustice to them. ("Washington Post" dated 11/18/47, p.1)
