FOIA/PA appeals

As Mr. Barrett is able to go over records I was not able to file more evidence of Departmental non-compliance case to light. In the chance these have not been appealed, and I believe I have appealed, long ago, this also is my appeal.

On 1/2/77 Mr. Lassar requested all FOIA committee records pertaining to all my FOIA litigation and all pertaining to my unmet FOIA/PA request.

On 1/3/77 he requested all Office of Deputy Attorney General records pertaining to the King assassination and copies of all such records it ever had.

On 1/4/77 he requested the same information of Office of Legal Counsel.

I recall no compliance with any of these requests. If there has been any, Mr. Barrett has not located it.

Three years and more have passed. Does the Department believe it has stonewalled me long enough or must I expect still more stonewalling or file more unnecessary litigation?

The record is pretty clear: unless I file suit there is virtually no compliance.

Several months ago you reviewed all components of my unmet request. Several wrote me claiming they have no records but none have provided any, although I heard reports that some had been located.

There are other information requests going back to 1975 (including 1986 and 1977) that have not been complied with and pertaining to which my appeals have not been acted on. These have been appealed, repeatedly.
