

July 1, 1966

HAROLD D. WEISBERG
Born: April 8, 1913
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Summary

Harold D. Weisberg

In 1956, [redacted], advised a Special Agent of the FBI that Harold Weisberg, resident of Hyattstown, Maryland, held an annual celebration of the Russian Revolution. [redacted] said this celebration involved a picnic at Harold Weisberg's residence and was attended by twenty-five to thirty unknown people. [redacted] said [redacted] believed this affair was in commemoration of the Russian Revolution, inasmuch as it was held on the day when the communists celebrated all over the world. [redacted] said that [redacted] had no specific information that Harold Weisberg was a communist.

142-7536-3

Harold D. Weisberg

stated that Weisberg is the husband of Lillian Stone Weisberg, both of whom were in their forties.

On November 19, 1958, Harold and Lillian Weisberg filed a complaint (Civil Action Number 11036) against the United States Government in United States District Court, Maryland District, Baltimore, Maryland, under the Tort Claims Act, for $9,950 damages allegedly sustained by them in their poultry business as a result of disturbance caused by low-flying Government-owned helicopters.

The complaint showed that they were joint owners of Coq d'or (Golden Rooster) Farm, 14-acre tract of land near Hyattstown, Maryland, on Route 109 between US 240 and Maryland Route 355, on which they lived and operated the Coq d'or Farm. The principal business and source of revenue of the Coq d'or Farm was the raising of pheasant-chickens, Rock Cornish game hens, waterfowl, and other poultry and the sale of poultry and their eggs.

Our files also indicate that a book titled "Whitewash," relating to the assassination of President Kennedy, was written by one Harold Weisberg.

Enclosure