

313 H. St., nw
Washington, D.C.
July 29, 1942

Dear Mr. Yarmon,

Have you noticed that in these reports I'm giving you the names and addresses of various people with whom you may want or have to make last minute checks? I hope you will keep them so you won't be caught flatfooted in an emergency.

Re your letter of Monday afternoon. You had a good hunch, and they don't know themselves about some of the stuff. However, most of it is available and is being sent you by Miss or Mrs. Marjorie Groves, press officer of the WAAC's, whose phone is RE 6700, Extension 72101.

You evidently misunderstood the word "auxiliary". That refers to the rank and file of the WAAC, and when I reported all OCS candidates in the future were to come from the auxiliary, it meant from the ranks. They will follow Army procedure. The hierarchy is junior leaders, first leaders, and then, if commissioned, 3rd officer, 2nd officer and first officer. I'm sure you'll have all the dope on it very soon.

They haven't some of the insignia yet, so, of course, they will not be able to provide them. They are sending you all on this and insignia they

A pay change will be considered and probably recommended, but they want complete silence on the score for the time being and I got it in confidence

I expect to be able to include at least most of your other queries in this mailing. I must caution you to restrict your queries to musts, because I have already spent more time than I promised and actually have on this and don't want to be in a position where I have burned up so much time on really unessential things that I can't help you on important things. Yours
Harold Weisberg