July 27, 1942 313 H Street NW Washington, DC

So far on this work I have spent approxi ately 30 hours--I have an exact recordand have incurred some not very great expenses, by far the introduct one being the Washington Post. I would appreciate it repart. Send and the send send and the I will receive it by the end of the week and I will bill you of an end will be balance.

Also, this is to remind you that you gave me no outline for the merchant marine so I will have to estimate what you want. They, too, are reorganizing". Meting not the destribute of the second of the order and and the formation of the outline of the work of the second of the normal second of the the due to set of the second of the normal back of the second of the the due of the second of the second of the normal second of the the due of the second of the second of the normal second of the the due of the second of the second of the normal second of the telephone calls before 1 o'clock. However, all the queries as of the second of the the due of the second of the second of the second of the second of the telephone calls before 1 o'clock. However, all the queries as of the telephone of the second of the second of the second of the second of the telephone all when an an an all when the second of the second of the telephone and the second of the

With respect to the series of every three copies. I sent Yarmon all they had, today. The cost was the fantastic amount of $3.70 for about 20 issues.

I spent this afternoon and this evening getting as many as possible of the answers to your questions should be Coast Guard. Some of the information that they do not have here may be contained in some of the literature I sent Yarmon today. In the event it is not, it is available in New York from either of the following: Lt. Robert R. Edge, Coast Guard Public Relations Officer, 44 Whitehall Street, or Lt.-Com. V. J. Charte, Recruiting Officer, at the same address. I also sent Yarmon axxispage letter in which I told him what information is not available here and I presume he will ask you for any that he should be able to obtain in New York.

My letter ran over 11 pages and in addition I sent him a large number of pamphelts and I am hopeful the information will prove adequate.

I have checked at the CAA and found that the office of Miss Pat O'Malley has finally gotten around to answering your letter.

I expect to get all or almost all of the material on the Marines tomorrow. I have a date with the right people. In the course of speaking to them today, I asked them to add paratroopers, glider pilots, and things like that, of course not included in the Mary outline. They will, but ask you to make a great point of not calling the Marine paragroopers "American Commandos". They don't like the comparison, especially since they have been doing commando-type work since 1776.

I had a merchant marine appointment today that I had to skip because of the Coast Guard.

You will recall, when we had our discussion, you said I could finish all the work by the 31st, which is the end of this week. I certainly hope you were right in this estimate because my other work almost certainly will demand that I be out of town all of next week and likely in a position where I can not conveniently return to Washington. Please let me know immediately if you will have any queries next week so that I can try to make arrangements to have them answered for you.

July 27, 1942 313 H Street NW Washington, DC

So far on this work I have spent approxi ately 30 hours--I have an exact record-and have incurred some not very great expenses, by far the largest the vicual one being the Washington Post. I would appreciate it 1995 Jue set and the solution of the solution of the solution of the week and I will bill you of the solution of the balance.

Also, this is to remind you that you gave me no outline for the merchant marine so I will have to estimate what you want. They, too, are "reorganizing". Maring her the offices there is the second of the first first and will be red but the gest durach with the menses redented for the work of Shipping Board but the gest durach with the menses has I bed normal bar uov mort series of all studies also a series of the second of the second of the second of the if everything goes right, I will mail to you tomorrow all there is no not the second of th

With respect to the series of every three copies. I sent Yarmon all they had, today. The cost was the family one out of every three copies. I sent Yarmon all they had, today. The cost was the family amount of $3.70 for about 20 issues.

I spent this afternoon and this evening getting as many as possible of the answers to your question first coast Guard. Some of the information that they do not have here may be contained in some of the literature I sent Yarmon today. In the event it is not, it is available in Now York from either of the following: Lt. Robert R. Edge, Coast Guard Public Relations Officer, 44 whitehall Street, or Lt.-Com. V. J. Charte, Recruiting Officer, at the same address. I also sent Yarmon arxitegare letter in which I told him what in-formation is not available here and I presume he will ask you for any that he should be able to obtain in New York.

My letter ran over 11 pages and in addition I sent him a large number of pamphelts and I am hopeful the information will prove adequate.

I have checked at the CAA and found that the office of Miss Pat O'Malley has finally gotten around to answering your letter.

I expect to get all or almost all of the material on the Marines tomorrow. I hade a date with the right people. In the course of speaking to them today, I asked them to add paratroopers, glider pilots, and things like that, of course not included in the Mary outline. They will, but ask you to make a great point of not calling the Marine paragroopers "American Commandes". They don't like the comparison, especially since they have been doing commando-type work since 1776.

I had a merchant marine appointment today that I had to skip because of the Coast Guard.

You will recall, when we had our discussion, you said I could finish all the work by the 31st, which is the end of this week. I certainly hope you were right in this estimate because my other work almost certainly will dement that I be out of town all of next week and likely in a position where I can not conveniently return to Washington. Please let me know immediately if you will have any queries next week so that I can try to make arrangements to have them answered for you.

2