Dear Al,

But up to this point I have made all the sacrifices and the maximum none.
This is the letter I have been hoping I would not have to write. It may also be a letter you have been expecting. However, after yours of the 21th., with ... I kept it for a while, but I finally decided to write you.
First of all, ... I saved the ... and ... comes not to $102.84 but to $107.04, Second of all, that $75.00. Jesus, Al, ... I would have charged anybody else just for the symptoms for which I have gotten $37.50. Why that comes to about $7.50 per by-alls ... work ... three of the pieces.
Entirely ... there are certain considerations involved ... I can't by this ... can I go back to these people ...

and for that ...
night I sent ...
it to him and said it was a damned shame you could ...

$2000.00, ... just 10 % of that. And that, Al, I think is rock bottom. That comes to $50.00 per byline, throwing Robinson in for good measure. Honestly, Al, thats below the cellar. For the other thing, the pay is too little, but okay. Dont think that I dont sympathize with your unenvieable position.

But up to this point I have made all the sacrifices and themagazine none.
Enough for unpleasiness, evad ton blnow I gainod nead evad I rettel et ai aht
I sepnt Saturday and Ft. Belvoir, and was thrilled, though I just about s ed oals ruined my clothes and got a terrible sinus attack which has just left.
I stayed there until late and got back after supper, but it was worth it. I think the story, if the Army clears by as I now visualize it, is is terrific, with even more extra letters. The guys will by line it and hope to write it tomorrow and to take it down for approval (of some of the majors and senior generals, also the guys) Wednesday or Thursday. I between time I have to go out to the Public Health people Tuesday and see Frazier and pick up what pictures he has of the I, am of the other than the pictures at the camp without using a photographer, if I can get it be necessary to get a photo of the authors, no that had nice and mid-looking guys. But this is one story I have never seen in print, and I'm sure you know ways a third person piece appeals to me. I think it will be a hot first I haven't been able to do anything directly on the radio or in the press, but I haven't been able to do much of anything. There are a couple of things I got, though. First, the International Students Service, Mrs. a FHR's best I, IA, I youth group is having an international conference here in the near future
There will be three Soviet delegates and if they should have good stories I to tell and one in particular is a girl, she's a girl with 200 Nazi medals hanging at what here will be a treasure. I think it's a pity for her this is impossible. Please, by her (and told her), no many interviews would make very nice copy. Let me know. I see you saw it and she said it Another story I rather like is the new American front lined war correspondents fighter writer combat correspondents, for better purposes. They have a reporters, several from Washington, who are in the marines. They have taken regular marine training and are full-fledged marines. They may have been in the recent fighting, but I don't think so. But in any event, they will be in the first gang to land and will have to fight before they can write. There should be some good pictures on this, and I should speak to the marines this coming week if you like it. So far as I know there are no other picture magazines interested.

So far as I know the original arrangement I made with the Public Health people still stands and I'll go out and pick up the story Tuesday.

Thanks for the copy of the letter from Coffee. It is a pleasant surprise.

Sometime I'd appreciate a photostat.

How about that trip down here you have been mentioning? It would not only be nice, but I think it is rapidly becoming necessary that we sit down and talk some things over.

I hope that doesn't leave anything out. I haven't forgotten about the personality story, but until now I have not been able to think of anything better than Sabbath that you'd take. I have several other ideas, but they'll keep.

There is no point in sending my expense account in today. I'll do it about Wednesday. It may be a little larger because of the unusual amount of travelling and because the lobster was not the only expense under the heading of entertainment.

Yours,

Harold Weissberg
