

Dear Mr. Weisberg,

I just wanted to drop you a few lines and tell you how very much I admire what you've done with your research into the Kennedy assassination. I've been reading Post Mortem and the information in that book has greatly broadened my understanding. I share your indignation expressed so eloquently. Sometimes I wonder why there isn't a protest demonstration every day in every city, town, and village in this country demanding an honest accounting of the death of John Kennedy. I don't know if it amounts to a lack of character in the American people or if the blame lies in the power of the establishment and their lapdogs in the media which have acted assiduously for 30 years to keep the truth from coming out. Allen Dulles was right when he said Americans don't read. If they did then there would be more hope for justice to prevail. At any rate, I want you to know how much I appreciate what you have done. God bless you.

Sincerely,
