Dear Mr. Weisberg:

Enclosed please find a check for $51.45. Please send me a copy of Whitewash, Whitewash II, Photographic Whitewash, and Whitewash IV. I received a copy of Oswald in New Orleans yesterday and finished reading it this evening. I was startled to learn how much Jim Garrison's investigation actually owes you for developing first, and how little you are generally credited.

Mr. Weisberg, in the Solano/Napa Library System (SWAPS) (where my wife and I live) there is but a single copy of Framo-up.

Twelve major public libraries and not one copy of any of the Whitewash series or Oswald in New Orleans or Lost Mortem (which I bought a few years ago.)

This is an outrage. ~~One can not~~ Having read (and re-read) Lost Mortem, Case Open, and Oswald in New Orleans, you have moved me to write and thank you for the phenomenal work you have done, the clarity with which you write, and the tone of moral outrage that you are so right to convey.

Sincerely yours,

Paul J. Hoff
