Dear Mr. Bates,

I appreciate the compliments in your 3/9. Coming from a former SA they do mean more.

If you are as you think you will be near here you'll be welcome and if you'd like you can have unsupervised access to all I have and to our copier. With the volume I have than can be meaningless but I have what I call my "subject file." It is of duplicates.

I've kept all records as I got them for fidelity when they are an archive at local Hood College. Those in the subject file are filed by name so you can go over it fairly rapidly and see what you'd like. I won't be able to go to the ^absement with you. I can no longer use stairs safely.

The one consideration I ask is that you plan to do what you'd like by 4 some days, 4:30 others. For various medical reasons my working day must end then.

Depending on where you might be in Baltimore or Washington it is an hour or more to here. Superhighway to less than 10 minutes from here from either.

Unless you want to embarrass Hosty I have no questions for him. I'd seen and in fact written about that WSJ article. That writing is for one of several books I've not completed. You'll be welcome to read those chapters if you've the time. You'll see that he was blowing smoke over that grossly misrepresented Mexico City business, from his own record and from the CIA's copies of which were given to me. I have a separate file of them in my office if you'd like to go over them. Not quite 150 pages.

I do not remember Pete Logan's name from the records I have. These include the log of the DL assassination records if you'd like to see it. It was ~~40~~ 40+ linear feet of 3x5 cards before they xeroxed it for me in CA 78-0322.

I'm not acquainted with Coleman.

I cannot make a factual answer to your question about the assassination, who did it, the source of shots, etc. because, as you'll see from the records I got, the crime was never investigated and wasn't intended to be. I begin the ~~ans~~ answer that is possible in NEVER AGAIN! about ~~which~~ I believe I sent you the catalogue page. I carry that farther in what was only recently retyped, Waketh the Watchman: Our Stragelovian Military and the JFK Assassination. It makes no pretense of solving the crime, explains why it cannot be and then assesses motive, means and opportunity. I have no present plans for publication of it.

You refer to brain matter sprayed to the President's left. What do you think when I tell you it was also on the hood? And that ^{Frazier} Kellerman's body was between JFK's head and the point on the windshield specified on two charts the FBI withheld from me in CA 75-226 I've been given?

Thanks and best wishes, Harold Weisberg
