

declares that they have no current industrial cases and have not solicited any industrial cases since the Committee started to function.

Conclusion: Tharp is just about the easiest individual I have come against so far. He and I both know that he is not being at all candid in his revelations, but he is far more slippery than the average eel. Nevertheless, I shall continue to press him in the hope that something of importance may be uncovered.

B.E.