

Griffin Listed As Missing in U.S. 'Plot' Case

FH 7/24/42
Indicted Publisher,

Two Others Sought
By Federal Marshal

By JAMES TIERNEY

NEW YORK, July 23 (N. Y. News) — Sought by the United States Marshal with a warrant for his arrest, William Griffin, editor and publisher of the New York Enquirer, published Sunday afternoons only, had vanished today.

Also missing were Col. Eugene Nelson Sanctuary, an Army reserve officer of Morningside Heights, and Edward James Smythe, an executive of the Protestant War Veterans Assn., whose home is in the Dyckman section of Upper Manhattan. Both have had somewhat spectacular careers as anti-Catholic, anti-Semitic pamphleteers.

File U. S. Conspiracy Charges

Griffin, Sanctuary and Smythe are named with 24 other men and one woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, of Chicago, author of "The Red Network," in a Federal indictment charging conspiracy to crack the morale of the armed forces of the United States.

William Power Maloney, special assistant to the Attorney General in Washington, obtained the indictment Tuesday from a Federal Grand Jury in the National Capital after an investigation lasting 11 months. He and his assistant, John T. M. Reddan, produced 170 witnesses who gave 6,800 pages of testimony.

Quizzed By Jury

Griffin was called before the Maloney Grand Jury several times to explain his relations with George Viereck, veteran publicist for Germany. About three weeks ago, the court ordered Griffin to return to New York, get his records and produce them before the Grand Jury, Maloney said. Arriving in New York, however, he was admitted to St. Clare's Hospital. At the hospital today, it was said that he left, discharged, Monday, the day before the indictment was returned in Washington.

Late Tuesday, Maloney wired Executive Assistant U. S. Attorney Howard Corcoran here to file complaints against Griffin, Sanctuary and Smythe. U. S. Commissioner Garrett W. Cotter received the complaints and issued the arrest warrants.

When they are arrested, proceedings will be instituted for their removal to Washington for trial.

U. S. Reveals Charges Against 28 in Army 'Plot'

Alleges Conspiracy
To Foment Mutiny
Of Armed Forces

By WALTER TROHAN

Attorney General Francis Biddle yesterday made public the sealed indictment returned Tuesday by a Federal Grand Jury here charging 28 persons with a nation-wide conspiracy to defeat the war effort.

The specific counts on which the defendants are to receive an early trial are an attempt to impair the loyalty and injure the morale of members of the American armed forces and an attempt to cause insubordination and mutiny among the military and naval forces.

Face Stiff Penalties

The maximum penalties on the first count are 10 years imprisonment or a fine of $10,000, or both. The maximum penalties on the second count are 20 years imprisonment or a fine of $10,000, or both.

The indictment set forth 50 quotations from articles and statements published or printed by the defendants in furthering the alleged conspiracy and also cited various overt acts of the defendants. It alleged the defendants attempted to obstruct the war effort, convince the nation the United States was safe from attack and undermine confidence in public officials.

The sealed indictment was made public after Federal agents had rounded up Wednesday and yesterday the various defendants on complaints filed in various Federal Courts in several cities.

Organizations Named

In addition to naming the 28 defendants the indictment named a number of publications employed by the defendants to spread sedition and organizations which the defendants controlled or supported in the interests of furthering their campaign.

Defendants include Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, author of "The Red Network," Patriotic Research Newsbureau Letters, Otto Brennermann, a cartoonist and artist, and Donald McDaniel, a dentist, who allegedly financed and distributed Brennermann's drawings. It was said Brennermann's cartoons were distributed by the Nazi Bund and appeared in various of the allegedly seditious publications.

In Chicago, Mrs. Dilling was reported to have denied her guilt, asserting that there is nothing wrong with Army and Navy morale and adding: "If there is anything wrong with it it's because of New Deal bungling of the war effort."
