

Jim - Your letter of yesterday got here this evening.

Service Club

6/17/43

I was about to go into town to see

U. S. ARMY

"Assignment in when I would be until 7 p. m., when there would be a formation. Now the word is war again on the alert. So, I guess I'll be staying in."

I'd like to have seen Wren +
Dones, + of course, ~~Wren~~ ^{Buster} but apparently Jim not going to see anyone I want to for a while. Please relay any news of B to me.

That above situation seems to be an outrageous one.

I hope Bob is right about Allan, if not for the woman he gave Remember me to him.

Jim feeling pretty okay. Mum is a reaction to the unusually strenuous past week, but nothing to be concerned about.

Jim sitting on the small porch of the day room awaiting the 7 pm invitation, listening to a very uninteresting lecture & subconsciously hoping I can go in & see a movie, yet feeling I won't be able to.

There is no news, though some of the men are being sent to one of the other companies in this Bn.

Unless there is some news, for now only

love

Wendy
