

Henry - live in the position Sunday am of writing about something that may be changed entirely before I mail this.
I have the certificate papers + have just filled out all

Service Club

U. S. ARMY

I can without help. The only mail today leaves in 2 hours + I want to mail

The papers to you so you can type them, because they are supposed to be typed. I have typed in the answers, + they should be light. I hope one day he light. In the event I can't get the advice I need today I don't enclosed the papers, you will nonetheless need a certified copy of the marriage license, so please get that as soon as you can. I suggest you call your mom, + maybe she or someone else can get it. If there is any question about giving a certified copy to anyone besides you or me, they can ask the club to mail it to either of us.

R) My problem is not with you, but with computing the degree of dependence of my mother. I'd write more later, if I can, but I just wanted to look this off while I had a chance in order to catch the mail. They have lifted the restriction to parcels on us for today & most of the boys are going into stores, but I'm going to buy in + polish shoes & sew up holes etc. - be a good soldier - and if I have time I'll cover the letters that were forwarded.

3) Well, honey, the situation has changed again. The Company clerk, from whom I must either get the information or permission to go to the adjutant to get the information  has taken the day off. Unless he comes back by mail in about an hour from now - we'll make it this way: I'll keep the forms here. The only question regarding you that I haven't filled in is the marriage doc. I think I know it, but in the next letter send me the doc on the license. Also, proceed immediately with getting a certified copy of the m.l. from the proper court in Tex. If they will mail it directly to me, so much the better & faster. I understand they are to make no charge for this. I have printed the forms neatly. There is a chance they might accept a neatly printed form. I have already filled in half of the 4/ affidavit forms for my mom, & Whenever I can get the right type I'll be ready to shoot with them.

And now word has come that the club way to back before mail time. So, if the forms are enclosed, you can type them & return as soon as possible, keeping the handwritten copy. Whether or not the forms are enclosed, go through with the other. So that's for the confusion. If I get a chance I'll answer your 4 letters today. Regards to everyone. Love
