U. S. ARMY

Dear,

Now I just saw the Command ing officer, who told me he has seen the adjutant on my behalf, and that the answer was that no transfers at all are being made from here. Which means that I'd have to go to Albany, at best, and Buffalo, at worst, unless the officer's current plans are changed. It makes me feel very unhappy. I am certain it is not a fair or a necessary regulation, no transfers except "at the convenience of the Army." The shipping lists are a perfectly hazardous thing, and do neither a convenience or a superior convenience to the government. Well, that is the situation at this moment, honey. I'd still see if there is something I can do, but I don't think there is much. But as I don't have to tell you, this means enough to me for me to try anything. It is too late now to get this in the o.m. mail, so I'll hold it & add to it later, if I can.

In Linn's bulletin, which I sent back yesterday, are references to Lee & Fash bills I'd like you to get & keep for me. And today I returned a clip referring to a report on subversive activities I'd like you to get & keep.

I'm enclosing a letter from my kid sister Gladys which may tell you a little about her. The impossible situation of today will not always last. I can assure you of that. And you may know the letter if you read some of the occasional letters she sends.

Dear,

Your letter of the 27th, postmarked 1:30 a.m. the 28th, via mail, came in the first mail call today. Thanks for the instalment of the Casibus Gazette, some which I enclose.

For the time being, hold the copy. Rec. indexes. We very cramped for space, so will soon be sending some small things home just not to leave them. Also, let me know when you get my shoes, which I sent & insured. I sent you the ins. receipt last night

I can't keep up with Terry, unless he is both a Copied Pdr's Sgt.
& an insurance agent. Joe's address, as given me by Sam about 1 week ago, besides serial number: APO 953, 1124th Shock Squadron (Sp).
40 P.M., San Francisco. ~~Actually~~ Actually, the APO no. should be second. That is all I can say about his add. whether it should be included or not I can't say.

I hope you are feeling better & that this period passes with less disturbance than usual. In meditation of late - and I have been doing much of that - I think the most important & valuable benefit for which we can hope as a result of your treatment is the ending of your pain... I write this in the empty room when I am doing some very simple work. We are about to receive you see close with love

Honey - Okay
here to drop
this in a sealed
envelope (from later)
in the envelope:

I'm very glad you are doing it. You can, if you want to, continue on such things as the Digest, which I understand if you do, make an entry on the card reading Digest + the date. Then keep the Digests in a separate file so we will know which have + have not ^{been} done.

Ditto for the Notes. Incidentally, has it stopped coming? I'll let you know when I get letters you have sent so we will know when they all get here.

Still later. Now with Bob in the army, all the digital males in your family are in. I am continuing my search for a pair for you - they have none here + the stores in town that I have tried have none - all try to get me for your Ma. But look, Honey. There are many stores in D.C., + they'll have stuff of better appearance, better quality. How about your buying them, I'll pay for them? That will get them, + better ones. If you do, we can give you the use for Mother's Day. And it + when you

So, please get me one with one for for my Ma, too. Thanks. Glad to hear Ed may be able to get down this weekend. If you see him find out if he can use a wood like my dog-tag necklace. It is a little too small on me. -- By the C.O. has spoken to the Br.
C.O. about my assignment, he hasn't yet reported the outcome.
I'm keeping my fingers crossed but not building up any hopes.
... You speak of the weather: we had fine weather, too. Got a keen & windburn on the face! ... Glad to hear the B's are okay. Never got I's letter. ... Your reference to Sid meant nothing but it will when I get your earlier letters. ... I wrote Johnny but didn't know the address well. Remember me to her, please. That's about all - except this:
As soon as you know what date you'll need me for the treatment let me know. I'll ask for an emergency pass this time. Love Dad
