Trusty night

U. S. ARMY

Henry -

Just a few lines to begin a letter I'll mail tomorrow, though at this point it may not leave until the day after. First mail here is about 1:30, & second 5:30-6:30 - but the last mail leaves at 1 p.m. Some system.

Tonight I hoped for a pass & didn't get, so, instead of lounging around the barracks I came down here after supper to work, thinking one of the other Corps might want an evening off. That's the way it worked. One was ill, & I'm working until 11 pm, about an hour from now. This is a regular job - none of it looks

2/ like it will be unpleasant. In back and forth, for the a.m. for all I know, I may be finished for the day when the place is cleaned up in the am - and I don't do the cleaning - I'm of the leisure class - a boss. The "jeeps" do the actual work. At night I'm on bright & sit in the office handling out check books, check sets, cards, writing materials, etc. It was slack before so I wrote just 1 Bd letter and read for about 1 1/2 hours. In the morning, while "working," I'll be listening to good music on WQXR. And I just learned I don't stand promotion - which is a privilege, though we special halls because I don't want them here, except that they waste your time standing around. Today saw 3/2 wrote notes to mom and anna, besides note to Service Club my folks.

a long but a very easy day. On  yes, I have been told of another of my class rights. I don't have to get up as early as the others - just as I get the by & I can get up whenever I want. But I imagine it's getting up the same old time just the same.

Thanks for the clips. I am returning or have returned those I want, but the others were quite interesting.

Also, I got a V-mail from here, and have already written Lollie. Will mail it in the a.m. And will probably continue this in the a.m., unless 4/ Jim away.

Ray, Jim is the Jim's letter to you today.

What your proud.

As I see much it is
I can say I sent you 3 letters in one day

Love

W. B. G.
