Dear Mr. Weisberg:

Forgive me for the delay in mailing the $1.50, which I owed you from my last order. I've been in D.C. since the 8th of this month, trying to obtain various documents and photos, I don't have to tell you what a hassle it was. After all your the man who made the Freedom of Information Act what it is today.

I returned to New York on the 26th and saw your package. Thank you very much for offering me the use of your files. Your generosity surpassed my highest expectations. I will of course contact you before I come down to Frederick, to arrange a time that will be most convenient for you.

By the way thank you for the names of the two sources I could try for more photos. Once again I appreciate you taking time out from your own heavy work load to give me some help.

Hope to see you in the near future, I must admitt I'm looking forward to meeting you.

Sincerely yours

Thanks for your 4/26. However, please try to remember that each thing I do is at the cost of something I do not get to do. Currently I've had to lay a new book aside for a considerable amount of extra work in a suit against DJ and FBI in which they are determined to give me as little as they think they can get away with. We have to fight these things with all the vigor we can. I'm months behind in filing and have many other time problems plus the limitations from the phalbitis. So I do ask that you conserve my time as much as possible. Best, HN 5/6/76
