Oswald Could Have Killed, an MD Finds

vey Oswald, psychiatrist Dr. David Abrahamsen Has con-cluded that the Slim and dark and bemused smile was indeed ex-Marine with the hollow eyes After nearly two years spent examining the life of Lee Harvey Oswald, view, one favorable to the findcriminal mind has added his ings of the Warren Commission. and today an expert on Kennedy's assassination goes on, The relentless scrutiny of John the

Accepts Findings

Oswald with the nearly 1,000 wald had the mind of a murderer. wald had the mind of a murder pulsive moment, kill a man; Os-therapy. a meeting here of the Assn. for witness on criminal insanity, put deis University, formerly of Cothe Advancement of Psycholumbia, and a frequent court Dr Abrahamsen, now of Bran-sion asserts, was indisputedly ority, cruelty, impulsiveness, the assassin, though he accepts withdrawal, hostility. Like them, the Commission's finding. Ra too, he had endured the psyther he is convinced from combine chologically jarring experience paring the sexual experience, of being privy to his parents' He does not argue that Os studied: Narcism, egoism, suswald, as the Warren Commis piciousness, contempt for authcharacter traits and behavior of sexual acts when young; he had, according to Warren Commismother, Marquerite, sion evidence, slept with traits of the murderers he had many of the same personality Oswald, he said, had exhibited until murders whom he has studied most 11 and during a period To overcome his sense of help-that Oswald had a mind that when she was married to her lessness, he was later to be an could, in one wild, irrational, im-third husband, Edwin Ekdahl. exhibitionist, wearing too big

Not a Little Boy

The man who murders, Abrahamsen asserted, does so to counter a sense of helplessness, to proclaim his power. In Freudian terms, "It's to show his mother he's not a little boy." Such helplessness he said, "yonuge" for young. To counter was to identify in his fantasis with dictators men who had the power to act out their aggreshis mother he's not a little Spoiled excessively as a child, spurs a man to vengefulness such a feeling of insignificance, and withdrawal.

vey Oswald a murderer?

his peirencing a weaene al- his own masculinity. he was born. When she remar-ried, he felt "guilt and fear and tifying with his mother and ex-peirencing a weaened sens of hate" over the intruder in his mother's bed, subsequently idenhaving died two months before age was his mother, his father said, Oswald's sole parental im-Until he was 3, Abrahamsen clothes and spelling and spelling

How did this make Lee Har- think important. When no one Abrahamsen asserted, Oswald in the U.S. did, he went off to tht he was a man others should was ever filled with the notion Spoiled excessively as a child, ligure.

Listening

Marina, the night before the enter Cuba, spurned by his wife, period of rejections. He was sions spoiled excessively as a child, figure. pecting to "return in acclaim," ness and with proving his own termined to show Russia it had tention and control events, power," wanting to command at-So, "obsessed with vengefulde-YORK ham with open arms like a said, had also offered opinions by was rejected there too:

At the time he allegedly killed Abrahamsen presented he said, he had gone through a relentless the investigation." Russia, expecting it to welcome Commission's investigations, he him with open arms like a said, had also offered opinions d. Listening to Abrahamsen on speak last night was City Coron speak last night was City Coron poration Counsel J. Lee Rankin, of the who was general counsel to the who was general counsel to the who was general counsel to the chiatrists who had assisted the chiatrists who had assis