Dear Gary,

The enclosed Dallas "findings" ^{after} ~~before~~ the supposed "inquest" are not what you want but I send it in the event you may find some use for it. The Dallas death certificate is apparently misfiled and we can't find it.

Perhaps I was not clear in the caution I gave you about asking for information from any of those who espouse theories, most of all those who present them as solutions.

I am aware that you may have no other available sources. My caution was related to depending on them. They may know about and not give you or cite what you may want that does or can contradict them.

Mere Lidton is the prime example. He probably knows more about what the Commission published than anyone you can ask. Aside from not knowing the other available information, he has a clear record of commercializing a theory his own information told him was impossible before he published his mistitled book. And I do mean at each and every step in it!

I wish I knew when my book is scheduled to be published so I could tell you. This is because I think that to the degree possible it does what you and your associates want to do.

And probably much more.

Thanks and best wishes,
