Dear Steve:

When I spoke with him last night, Harold asked me to send you a note. He also said to send you a copy of his last letter in case I don't remember everything I should say to you.

Harold is currently in Johns Hopkins Hospital where he has been for almost three weeks. We are hoping he will be discharged soon, but it is a day-to-day situation and there is nothing definite about that.

In the meantime, he is looking much better than when he went in and is feeling better but is still weak and unable to do much walking. He is getting good care, much better than is available here in Frederick. And he is looking forward to seeing the game between the Red Sox and the Orioles when you are here in July.

If that is still in the cards, we would like to know about parking, entrance gate, seats and access to them, etc. Harold's letter enclosed is a better explanation, I think; it omits only asking what time should we get there. He adds that if seating is not skybox, it would be too dangerous.

We are both looking forward to seeing you again and all four of us hope it will be at Orioles Park in Camden Yards when the Red Sox meet the Orioles!

Best wishes and thanks
