Garelik Says Terrorists Are Growing Peril Here

By ROBERT D. McFADDEN

City Council President Sanford D. Garelik asserted yesterday that the city had become the battleground of three or four urban guerrilla organizations and a number of smaller armed terrorist groups.

Among the groups, he included the Black Panthers, the militant Weatherman faction of the Students for a Democratic Society and the Young Lords, a new militant organization of youthful Puerto Ricans.

This was the first public assertion linking the Young Lords to armed terrorism. A Young Lords spokesman later denied that members now possessed weapons, but he said the organization was moving toward "armed struggle for liberation."

The total membership of the various groups is "small—in the hundreds," Mr. Garelik said. But he warned that their numbers were growing and that the groups, operating with increasing tactical sophistication, were capable of "great destruc-

Mr. Garelik, former chief inspector of the Police Department and from 1960 to 1962 head of its bureau of special which investigates services. anarchistic subversive and groups, discussed the growing threat of armed, clandestine

Continued on Page 27, Column

NYT 3/13/70

Garelik Says Terrorists Are Growing Peril Here

Continued From Page 1, Col. 3

at City Hall.

'His assessment followed early-morning explosions in three midtown office buildings, been sharply curtailed by the the latest in a series of bomb-ings in the city. During the day the police recorded at least 137 bomb threats.

The Police Department declined officially to comment yesterday on the scope of the acceptance of a Maoist armed terrorist activity in the city, but sources in the department characterized Mr. GareHe characterized the Maoist lik's assessment as accurate.

The Council President noted that he had been "keeping in close touch" with police intelligence activities in the area of extremist organizations.

church to press for a day-care bers are no indication of the center, they specifically ruled destruction" they can wreak. out the presence of weapons.

Pablo (Yoruba) Guzman described as the minister of information for the Young aged people working in small, Lords chapter in New York, highly organized "cells," Mr. said last night that his group Garelik said, the groups "bepossessed no weapons, but he lieve that just a few can do noted that the organization's it," and are "really in a posipolitical platform called for tion to do it."
"armed struggle" and added: "What we're seeing here is

'A Terrific Problem'

"The only way to achieve liberation is by picking up guns Council President said. — and we're moving our peo-ple in that direction."

said he was not familiar with city constitutes "only one stage Revolutionary Force 9, the of guerrilla warfare," Mr. Garegroup that said it had set off lik said, adding:
vesterday's three blasts here in "There are others that I office buildings.

The Council President said, however, that the main threat organizations in an interview of terrorist actions here wasposed by anarchists of the ultraleft, and not by right-wing extremists. The activities of neo-Nazi organizations here have police, Mr. Garelik said.

"What we're dealing with here is a terrific problem," Mr. Garelik said. "These are urban guerrillas, the outgrowth of an era of disrespect for law and

He characterized the Maoist approach as an effort to destroy society by violence with the aim of rebuilding it in some as yet unspecified eay

Mr. Garelik said that although In January, when the Young lieved the number of active terrorists was small, "the numlaw-enforcement authorities be-

'A Few Can Do It'

Made up primarily of college-

"What we're seeing here is international in scope with a few groups here, really an in-formal coalition of groups," the

The recent series of bombe in that direction." ings of corporate offices and Mr. Garelik, in the interview, government buildings in the wouldn't even care to discuss."