LBJ Galled Unaware of CIA Subsidy

Other Report Says Top Levels Knew It in Early 60s

By Richard Harwood Washington Post Staff Writer

President Johnson, it was reported on responsible authority last night, was "totally unaware" of the Central Intelligence Agency's financial involvment with the National Student Association.

This official said he further believes that no member of the President's staff was aware of the facts in the case until "very recently."

This disclaimer of White House involvement in the con-troversial link between the CIA and the college student organization was at odds with other reports.

Vice President Humphrey, for example, was reliably re-ported to have been informed by NSA officials as early as July, 1966, that they were dependent on the CIA for a large portion of their budget. They asked Humphrey's help in obtaining funds from private organizations.

Known at Top Level

Moreover, one of the mgn-est officials in both the Kennedy and Johnson Administrations stated yesterday that the White House and the State Department had known for years that the CIA was subsidizing student organizations in this county.

He was not certain, he said, whether either President Kennedy or President Johnson was personally informed of the subsidies.

But the decision to put millions of dollars into the covert subsidy operation was made "at the highest levels of the government," he said, and not by the CIA alone. He implied that the idea may have been born in the State Department and that the CIA was chosen to carry it out simply because it had the funds and the ability to operate clandestinely.

Unfair to 'Take Rap'

In any event, this former official declared, it is unfair for the CIA to "take the rap" now. He said the agency was doing what it was authorized to do by persons with the authority to speak for the President himself.

Under President Kennedy, he said, the CIA's operations were carefully supervised by an interdepartmental committee that included State Department representatives and Presidential Assistant Mc-George Bundy, Since Bundy's departure, he said, the chief responsibility for CIA liaison in the White House has rested with Walt W. Rostow and his staff.

In reply, a present official of the Administration said the interdepartmental com-
