

World Press

What are the things that the Warren Commission has NOT done?

We suggest, for a start, that they examine the background of Jose Rodriguez Molinas who, shortly before the assassination, instigated a law suit AGAINST the Dallas-owned radio station WRR.

Mr. Molinas whom the Dallas police called a "communist" and whom Police Chief Jesse Curry called a "subversive" was not under surveillance on November 22, 1963? Oh, come on now. Surely the Warren Commission knows better than this. Particularly since this individual had angered Chief Curry and the Dallas Citizens Council inordinately by his law suit against the city of Dallas.

We must remember, too, that Mr. Molinas was "dragged" across the street to the police station by policemen within minutes of the assassination. When I asked Dallas Morning News reporter, Hugh Ayensworth, what the charge against Mr. Molinas at this point had been, Mr. Ayensworth replied:

"Oh, no charge. But he was a Communist, wasn't he?"

Mr. Molinas is no longer with the Texas School Book Depository Building. In point of fact, we do not know where he is. Do you?

Sincerely,
Mrs. Mark E. Martin and Children
Box 566
Hominy, Oklahoma

cc: 100 Asia, Europe, Americas, Anzac Countries