Dear Mark,

In reviewing my correspondence with Livingstone on the chance I might want to offer some to the assistant state's attorney and making copies of some that I might I think I have the answer to his gibberish about Pierre and Anenberg, misspelled.

In trying to reason with him about his ~~insane~~ concept that Mary is involved in a conspiracy because he imagines that the law firm for which she worked had been I told him that meant as little as my having worked for Pierre DuPont and the Annenbergs. They owned CLICK magazine when I worked for it.

We will have company soon and again tomorrow, my ^{wife's} ~~wife's~~ 81st.

If I come to that letter ~~then~~ ^{now} I'll send you copy. If I do not I'll mail this to let you know because to the degree I can now tell the coming week will be very tight.

The date was in November, 1992, or about this time he spoke to you about Lewis DuPont Smith as I recall.

Best,

If I am correct in this being his reason for asking you to get Smith to investigate me as a DuPont company employee it is typical of Harry and his notion of fact and of investigation. I said I'd worked for Pierre and he made that in the company. There was a big difference.
