Dear Mary,

I've been meaning to ask you: Has Boxley written a book yet?

I've been expect^{ing} that he and/or Turner would and would have by now.

And I fear the potential of one either would write. One Farewell America is too much.

I heard from a friend in New York day before yesterday that the pub date of Jim's is now 11/15. I've had no word from him on anything.

I saw Bob Smith briefly yesterday, told him what you'd said Arch says of his work, and he appreciated it. I also asked him to get me what I forgot to go back for after seeing it years ago, the working-papers file on the motorcade route, the special Secret Service inquiry into it that I think is separate from the CD files. Do you (collectively) have this? My need is not urgent, but I will want it for a special reason. I think the inquiry was by a Dallas staffer and was asked by the Commission. When I first started working in the Archives, I made notes of things I couldn't afford and would get later and lost that list. Then I started buying what I couldn't pay for. This may have been a CD file. My recollection is not clear. If it was, it was not in the regular SS format.

Best,
