Dear Maggie,

I have (I think!) just finished the rough draft of the last chapter of text of the fifth book that I have not yet titled. Meditating while I was chewing supper, it occurred to me that I have no mention of yours in it. I know nothing about Sylvia's, save that some time ago she sent me the draft of her chapter on the False Oswald. But I do know the title, and there was an appropriate point for mention of that. I could work in a reference to Ray's monograph. But I do not know the title to yours. I think we should also think of the future, when an occasional reference might have value. All of the text will deal with the medical-autopsy evidence, largely what was suppressed, the transfer of evidence to the Archives, the "return" of the pictures and X-rays, etc. The rest will be documents, probably more than 300 pages of them. Without your telling me any more about your book, I expect to use the document with the 1023 H. Beckley address. There, at least, I can make reference to your title. But you have never told me. Unless you want to keep that secret, too....I'll probably have a number of things I will not have space for. As I go over the appendix, perhaps some of them will occur to me as having value as an appendix to the Manchester book, in which event I'll hold them for that. I hope to be out there before too long, and perhaps I can remember enough of these things that might have value to you. One of the things I have redundantly, and more is available than I didn't get, is the initial and continuing FF-SS all-three-shots-hit-JFK-JBC evidence, and a considerable amount of similar stuff stuff....More material will be available for research next week. I'll let you all know. I'll be there...I'm taking some 300 pictures of my own then.... No word from Parallax, but I expect the M.O. book out soon...Does any of you know anything about Larsen, Wade and Curry's partner in the film venture that the publicity should kill?...I've been out of circulation writing so I have no news... Jones indicates Dick has more good picture stuff pending. Best to all, Al.
