Dear Dick,

The discussion with which I begin is so that my own journal will be complete in my files.

Our conversation was interrupted when you had to take a long-distance call. You had just told me that you had I had told you I suspected that you agent was had represented as was a CIA agent. You had been in Washington last week, at least, on a visit by a former CIA agent. You had asked me and he had mentioned that this was a CIA agent.

(You had invited me to be there earlier but I was ill and it was not possible.)

We could not remember the name, but still it was not John Stone but about the time John Stone represented me I had not mentioned the name.

But as soon as we finished talking I suddenly remembered John Stone.

They were then at 200 Fifth Avenue and I still have the name John Stone written of the FBI. But, that was on that day, when he indicated they would go for the social use of weapons.

There was a telephone number mentioned.

All this and the various witness modifications are in the draft of the Statement of Richard Gillian.

Even after what you said of what you have found of my work, predictions and analysis over the past decade, I think you will find what I have written. It is one of the significant parts of that work which I had just started to tell you when you had to leave and that work interrupted.

If there are no considerations of accidents or errors, it would be quite likely for me not to be so close if I could be able to talk this matter over and get the full story, with the only proper elements are in context, not to reveal the story. I don't want more for that time. It has the work in it but not I don't think time to read, not and add it. But I'd love some publisher to take it as it is, with the understanding that it's not time to read and correct and check, etc. Most of it is entirely correct. And it can have extensive implications not only in the current Congressional investigations but also in the coming elections.

Respectfully,

David Solberg

P.S. How nice that we are here to have I'll give you that my is a coincidence or a CIA list of one you know, another.
