Dear laul and Cary,

Last December, at the time we extricated him from the then-current crisis, we were led to believe that, with the applicing litigation completed, Jim would be through with the Lennedy assassin tion. This was not as explicit as to could have been, he then also agreed to turn the case over to block and concentrating on getting re-elected. He sure as hell did that:

As soon as the election was over, I heard radio comments several time in which he was duoted as saying the investigation is over. Lowever, before then and since I have been led to believe it is not. I do not know whether you are still getting the M.O. papers, so in the event you are not or missed it, this is from the States-Item of the 10th:

"The Kennedy investigation is over and it was successful- althlight that won't beunderstood for some time to come".

he and I may not have identical reasons in mind, but I am in accord the the latter statement (regretting as I do its costs).

However, this statement is not consistent with what he said on several occasions during the campaign, that it would continue he coult have said and meant both, and it the 11/40 quote is accurate, it can be something about which he changes his mind.

t the same time, the NYT mes quoted him as saying of Shaw, crimly "he go s to trial".

There are also outstanding indictments against Thommley that I remember, against Layton Partens, Povel might raturn and, although there are no remember believe they will presecute them, there are in my opinion other solid percry cases.

Mis majority was 2 times what i'd figured. Ver all opponents it was more than 12,000 votes. There are but two precincts in which he didn't have top vote. In one case, he was 50 votes behind connick and in the others (where about 10,000 votes were cast), about 200 behind. We car ied the other 14, which is quite impressive, even for a genuinely popular man.

In the near future, I expect "on here for a vacation and pathaps to work. He indicated both. Maybe I'll know more then. But my own belief is that wrong as he has so often been, Jim is as sincere about this as he could be, and I do not expect him to drop it. I'd like to think he'll be more careful. From the things I've discovered and dug up on the scene and Yaul and JIMB's added r searches in the archives, I have no doubt at all that he can develop other and solid class. At the moment, I can't make up my mind which I'd orefer, had I my druthers, going sheed, which i expect, or not. If he could put a third the effort, event with incompetents, in on the local stuff, he's bound to hit cometning. I have a nothing he may even develop cases against those he trusted. The yes, he has cases against Tomland Curvich. I think he should prosecute both.

Faul told me the Brener book is available out there for 06.00. It isn't worth it to me, but if anyone gets it, in the course of time I'd like to borrow it. Lartly to see that else Tom did.

If any when - learn more, I'll keep you posted. Lowever, save for any of these pending cases, I'd expect nothing public until after the final election in Farch, - Welleve. He does need at least traction and probably surgery. Best, IN
