ITT Head Affirms

By Laurence Stern Washington Post Staff Writer

Harold S. Geneen, chairman of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp., acknowledged yesterday that he twice offered large sums of money to the U.S. government in 1970 to block the election of Chilean President Salvador Allende.

The ITT executive, reputed to be the nation's highest paid corporate officer, gingerly stepped around contradictions in previous testimony by ITT officials and other witnesses which Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho) declared might be the basis for perjury action.

Geneen said he could not recall making an offer of a "substantial fund" to a top Central Intelligence Agency official, William V. Broe, in July, 1970, to finance an agency effort to stop Allende.

But he stipulated that he would accept Broe's sworn version of their conversation during a late evening meeting in Geneen's room at the Sheraton Carlton Hotel here.

He said the offer to Broe might have been ill-advised, prompted by his "shock" at political developments in Chile where he feared confiscation by the Allende government of ITT holdings. The CIA declined his offer, he said, and the matter "died right there."

But the offer surfaced again in different form in September after Allende's popular election, Geneen conceded under questioning. It came in the form of a proposal conveyed by ITT to national security adviser Henry A. Kissinger and Richard M. Helms, then head of the CIA, to do-

But the ITT official who offer of development aid to the White House and State Department said yesterday he had never been instructed to make such an offer. "I passed on the message I received," said Jack Neal of ITT's Washington office.

Gerrity conceded he might have failed to pass along that ITT was ready to underwrite a $1 million contribution for development aid to Chile.

Geneen himself took the position that the million-dollar offer was a "dual" offer: It might have been allocated by the government toward financing an anti-Allende coalition in the Chilean Congress, or it might have been used for development aid. "It was intended to be a very open offer," he said.
