Heading up the Chicago investigation will be Daniel Walker, who is president of Louis Masotti, of Case Westthe Chicago Crime Commission, a private group. He also worked with the Chicago Riot Study Committee, set up after the April disorders in the wake of the assassination of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Walker said yesterday he wanted to get "first-hand information" by talking to anyone on the scene of the street battles-delegates, bystanders, media workers, demonstration leaders, city officials.

His staff, he added, will examine film footage and stills and may be sent to interview student demonstrators at colleges or in their home towns. Asked where he was in Chicago during the disorders, Walker replied: "I observed it on television."
