

Mr. Rankin. I don't remember anything. I don't remember like that.

And finally I remember a voice behind me, I don't know then I remembered the people in the front row, finally, or somebody knew something was wrong, and a voice yelling, which must have been Mr. Hill, "Get to the hospital," or maybe it was Mr. Kellerman, in the front seat. But someone yelling But just down holding him. I was trying to hold his head on.
But from the front there was nothing. I suggest there must have been. But from the back you could see, you could see trying to hold his hair on, and his skull on.

Mr. Rankin. Do you have any recollection of whether there were one or more shots?

Mrs. Kennedy. Well, there must have been two because the one that made me turn around was Governor Connally yelling.
And it used to confuse me because first I remembered there were three and I used to think my husband didn't make any sound when he was shot. And Governor Connally screamed like a stuck pig.
And then I read the other day that it was the same shot that hit them both. But I used to think if I only had been looking to the right I would have seen the first shot hit him, then I could have killed him down, and then the second shot would have gotten Governor Connally. But I don't know. I don't know yelling and I don't know what he said. I don't know what he said. I don't know what he said. I don't know what he said.
