THE CONSPIRACY TO ASSASSINATE SENATOR ROBERT F. KENNEDY

Why wouldn't they, if the microphones 300 to 400 feet away on the podium recorded the three shots?

In this way, Houghton, in an effort to invalidate Miss Serrano's report, unwittingly produced just the right test to prove that a gun, not Sirhan's but a second gun, was firing.

The Polka Dot Dress Girl

The evidence is quite clear that a girl "in a white dress with black polka dots" was with Sirhan in the pantry, before the shots were fired.

Miss Serrano stated to the Los Angeles Police (Special Unit Senator, by Houghton, pp. 29-30) that the girl in the polka dot dress:

...came running down the stairs. She practically stepped on me, and then said, "We've shot him. We've shot him." Then I said, "Who did you shoot?" And she said, "We shot Senator Kennedy." And I says, "Oh, sure." ...

Vincent DiPierro son of the Ambassador's head maitre d', stated to the Los Angeles Police Dept. (Houghton, pp. 48-49) that he had seen the girl with Sirhan in the kitchen. At the trial, at the grand jury hearing, and in Houghton's book, the Los Angeles officials made it appear that only these two witnesses said anything about the polka dot dress girl.

The Los Angeles Police finally took the official position that there was no girl in a polka dot dress, that she was a figment of Serrano's and DiPierro's imaginations.

But it turns out that six, not two but six, witnesses saw the girl in the polka dot dress with Sirhan before the shots and afterward.

It seems that all six told their stories to all of the TV networks immediately after the assassination, while their memories were fresh. The TV tapes reside in many locations all around the U.S. In addition, there are numbers of witnesses, newsmen, and researchers who have seen or listened to the tapes or talked to the witnesses. It will be difficult to discredit into "figments of imagination" the evidence of four more witnesses whose testimony corroborates that of Serrano and DiPierro.

Secrecy Over the RFK Autopsy Report

The reports on the autopsy of Senator Robert F. Kennedy have been suppressed in three separate ways: first, by the judge's ruling before the trial of Sirhan; second, by attempts to silence the coroner, Dr. Thomas Noguchi, by intimidation; and third, by passing a special California law making the autopsy reports secret for 75 years.

The attempts to intimidate Dr. Noguchi are like a scene out of the movie "Z". After he told in public the results of the autopsy, he was accused of being insane and fired. He took the issue to court, and won a victory, when his lawyer Godfrey Isaac threatened to subpoena the autopsy and introduce it in court. Then the Los Angeles Police Dept. rehired Noguchi.

Summary

To summarize, the officials of the Los Angeles Police Department have been and still are suppressing important evidence about the RFK assassination. This evidence points toward a conspiracy, with Sirhan being a patsy, toward a hotel security guard firing the three shots which hit RFK, and toward at least one other person, a girl, being involved in the conspiracy.
