In CBS vs. King Family, a New Hearing

d

By Michael Dorman

a Dream" speech without his family's right laws by broadcasting portions of Dr. Martin Luther King's "I Have ing on whether CBS violated copybeen ordered to conduct a new hearpermission. A federal judge in Atlanta has

Circuit Court of Appeals for the 11th Circuit overruled a decision by U.S. civil-rights leader's heirs against CBS. The new ruling, delivered Friday in Atlanta, directed O'Kelley to District Judge William O'Kelley that the full merits of the case. dealt only with procedural issues, not claim. hold new hearings on the family's In a 2-1 decision, a panel of the U.S dismissed a lawsuit The appeals court decision by the

at the time by television and radio netportions of it in a recent documentary works, but the King family contends March on Washington and was carried about 200,000 people during the 1963 CBS needed permission to rebroadcast The speech was delivered before the King family, is scheduled to appear in a Memphis court a week from ly is involved in several other publiacy in the King assassination. James Earl Ray but now represents don-based cized issues. William Pepper, a Lontoday in a new effort to prove a conspir-The decision comes as the King famiattorney who defended often-discredited claim that he had been offered $100,000 by underworld suit against Loyd Jowers, a Memphis sources to arrange King's murder, to restaurateur who once which Ray pleaded guilty and received a 99-year sentence. Pepper has filed a wrongful-death made

The family is also trying to sell King's papers to the Library of Congress for $20 million, but an appraiser has estimated their worth at $10 million.

Martin Luther King Jr.'s family says CBS violated copyright law when it rebroadcast his "I Have a Dream" speech, given before about 200,000 at the 1963 March on Washington.

AP Photo

and sued the producer of unauthorized recordings of the talk.

vestigation of the case, including the sions. Pepper, who says he is represent than a year but produced no conclu-Jowers' claim, that has lasted more Department is still conducting an indeals involving the assassination. ing the King family without charge, has participated in book and television At the same time, the U.S. Justice in the copyright case by Joseph Beck, an Atlanta lawyer. He said the appeland her four children are represented late court ruling was "great news" for the family. King's widow, Coretta Scott King copyright through registration er, it's especially gratifying to see that bringing a lawsuit against an offendthe copyright has been restored, "After all Dr. King did to protect his and ing the full U.S. Circuit Court of Apsaid the network would consider askmedia specialist representing CBS, divided three-judge panel. peals to reconsider the decision by the New York lawyer Floyd Abrams, the merits of the attempt to copyright such a speech, it did say: "We are unstrated beyond any genuine issue of material fact that Dr. King, simply engaged in a general publication able to conclude that CBS has demonable for anyone to use in the future). legal term meaning he made it availthrough his oral delivery of the speech Although the panel did not rule on cent documentary, "The 20th Century major sections of the speech in a re-With Mike Wallace. The lawsuit resulted from use of speech a month after it was delivered King had tried to copyright the NEWSDAY, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 18/11 Pabseul.