Negro Cafe Is Dynamited In Mississippi

HAZLEHURST, Miss., Sept. 24 (AP)—A dynamite blast damaged a Negro cafe early today and officers searched for a motive in the state's second bombing in two days.

The FBI said the cafe was owned by a white businessman, Arman Whittington, but was operated by a Negro manager and had a Negro trade.

A house under construction for a Negro family in rural Leake County was dynamited early Monday. Officers said the motive in the case was not clear.
