Laird Hints Moves For Vietnam Accord By Secret Channels

By HEDRICK SMITH Special to The New York Times
WASHINGTON, March 21 Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird indicated today that the Nixon Administration was working privately through diplomatic channels for a Vietnam set-tlement as well as through the Paris peace talks

Mr. Laird, testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's Disarmament Subcommittee, declined to go into details. But he told the Senators:

enators: "I can assure you that every effort is being made not only through formal diplomatic channels, formally inthe Paris peace talks, but privately as well."

Well-placed sources said that he was apparently alluding to indirect communications with the North Vietnamese through the Soviet Union, rather than secret talks in Paris with North Vietnam and the National Liberation Front, or Vietcong.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4

Laird Hints at Vietnam Moves by Secret Channels

Continued From Page 1, Col. 2

Officials here say no substan tive talks in secret have begun in Paris.

The Administration is reliably reported to have been tar attacks were launched throughout South Vietnam last might, 34 of them against missile defense system by SenaAmerican military positions, observers suggested that it would be difficult to assess the Administration not to wait modernize the South Vietnam-

The Pentagon today identified trations until early last year, the following servicemen from was long a target for Senator the New York area as having Fulbright's criticism.

Leave the could be a great hero

By speeding up the modernization of the South Vietnamese Army, Mr. Laird said, "we can reduce the casualties of Americans, we can reduce the com-mitment of America, we can reduce the involvement of the United States."

"I have heard this before,"

Senator Fulbright snapped back. "It is an old broken record go-Vietnam Casualties ing back for McNamara." Robert S. McNamara, who served as Secretary of Defense in the WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP) Kennedy and Johnson Adminis-liably reported to have been killed in Victnam:

"You could be a great hero and sins have said, both here and in Paris, about possible openings toward a settlement.

But in view of the continuing enemy offensive—65 mortar attacks were launched corpsman, Willingboro, N. J.

"You could be a great hero and Mr. Nixon "You could be a great here

Mr. Laird, who voiced criti-cism earlier this week of the would be difficult to assess too long to change the present these indirect discussions as too long to change the present than tenuous and preliminary feelers.

"Soon it will be Nixon's war be if the Paris talks failed. But more than tenuous and preliminary feelers.

Some sources said that the North Vietnamese had indirectly dropped hints about their readiness for private talks and about possible willingness to agree to mutual withdrawal of outside forces from South Vietnames of outside forces from South Vietnames, provided such a with drawal was linked to a political settlement, and was garried out in the same nubliely ambignous manner as the understanding last October that brought a halt to American bombing of North Vietnam on Nov. I.

The Vietnam issue was interjected into hearings on the anti-proved into hearings of the proved into hearings of the pr