While Idl is taking a dip in the water that is still too cool for my troubled legs a brief note on an unexpected call today from Dohovan gay, the assassins' research

He said it was social so I accept it as social but all that is social of which we talked is the pool and I told him any time.

In our talk about the committee, which is how he began - and of course as long as he gets his paycheck there this should be confidential - I began by saying I am sorry about the way it worked out, that I'd have been happier with other results.

He surprised me by telling me he was there when I laid it all out, that it had worked both ways as I'd told Sprague. True, He was there that morning. I t was not in my mind. In fact he was always with me that afternoon, too, only akees being the other one who was.

He referred to the accuracy of these forecasts several times. He also expressed the hope they might reform. I told them if they did they'd never gain any credibility now.

His first question was of their new chief counsel. I said I did not know him but he has the same meaning the wrong background. I also said don't ask me questions unless you want direct answers. He said he did so I said he also had a conflict of interest in the King case. Blaket comes from the McClellan committee background, which means he has a conflict over the OFR whitewash called a Task Force Teport and I told Donovan that although that document does not may there there is another McC committee involvement, one Jack Droms. (McClellan knows the right types. With apologies to Stephen _escock.)

We went into the black members. "e said it was depressing. I told him this was not my intention and that a real depression would come in time if he does not preserve his personal integrity, something other of my younger friends may recall is not a new idea with me or new advice to envone. I teld him their record will be something he will have to live with so he'd better not kid himself about it. I also said that as lengt as his personal to be depressed over this.

Now it happens that he called not long after I received a report that Lane is in LA again and lapping up the attention while he flape off at the pouth. Letest flapping that he is Ray's co-cpussel. I told Denovan how he could be helpful to the black members on this, only in part from what I was told todays that Freed was acting as his flack members on my source's source on Lane saying he is new _ay's counsel. There are tapes at Black news net; that LA or net, Rill Stout, who drove out to the airport and did a Minicam bitl Bob Abernathy, whether or not NEC net NEC in LA on Channel 4 there. I then described Kershaw as a Maii but as not meaning this literally; that he has an anti-black, a record of defending those wielating law that give blacks rights, and I told him how he could obtain what is published. (You were never co-counsel with Stoner and what Lane can do to help Ray will remain a mystery. Bow this can help Bane is not mysterious.) But I think that on this your course is still silence.

If Donovan had anything in mind he did not communicate it makes no difference. However, I'll not be surprised if I have a visit.
