ANNA SANDHU

JAMES E. RAY

James Earl Ray, serving 99 years as the confessed slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Friday married a Knoxville courtroom sketch artist, Anna Sandhu, who first met him while sketching him in court on a plea for a new trial. The Brushy Mountain prison permitted the marriage but gave Ray no privileges.

Lane Vows to Tell King Killer's Name

From Wire Reports

PETROS, Tenn. — Mark Lane, James Earl Ray's attorney, said Friday he knows the name of a person involved in killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in 1968 and will identify the person within two weeks.

"We have discovered evidence to show there was a group of people involved in the murder of Martin Luther King Jr.," Lane said after Ray's marriage to Anna Sandhu, a 32-year-old Knoxville divorcee.

Lane, a former New York State legislator who recently moved his home to Memphis in hopes of winning Ray a new trial in the King case, announced his findings at a news conference at Brushy Mountain State Prison, where Ray is serving a 99-year sentence for King's assassination.

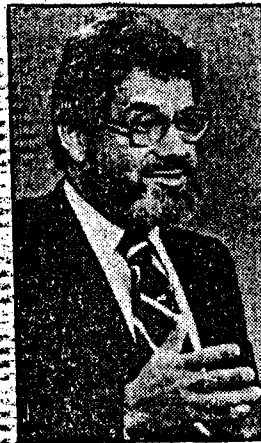

"I believe the prime suspects in the murder of Martin Luther King were those people associated with the Federal Bureau of Investigation in 1968," Lane told reporters. Lane has frequently charged the FBI with being involved in the Memphis slaying.

Lane said the Rev. James Lawson, who conducted the wedding ceremony, has investigated the case on his own. Lane said Lawson came up with information that "confirms, complements and corroborates what I have."

Lawson was a close associate of King, and was instrumental in bringing the civil rights leader to Memphis to help calm the city, which was torn by a violent garbage strike.

"Before the year is out," Lane continued, "the American people will be profoundly shocked to know who killed King, and who in high places in this country knows it and who is an accessory to murder after the fact."
