Dear Fred and Marilyn,

Gary Schoener (who is great) has told me of your letter of 1/7/68. You are right, and I want to comment. If you find some of my language blunt, I do not intend insult. And please excuse the ribbon.

The ^{A/}eyes file does show an officer with a pump gun.

Let me fill you in on Turner and your work on the pictures - and lens:

You will recall that about April 18 you sent me four sets of those pictures. I got them at the Post Office, sent to our local paper, called the AP in Baltimore (which has yet to return them), sent them a set, left a set at the paper for it ~~and the FBI~~ and the FBI (which I also phoned, and it only took them two days to get the pictures, of which they have yet to comment). This was, as I recall, April 20. Then Sampert was organizing a King Assassination Committee and asked me to serve on this. I agreed, spoke to Borsky, and offered to hold these pictures for him or to use them in a scheduled Minneapolis press conference 5/14 to attract attention to the new committee. He asked that I send them to him instead, and this I did, immediately. This, I have no doubt at all, is how Turner got them. He is an unrepentant literary thief, an indiscriminate and unoriginal plagiarist. He will note that it was not until June that he used these in the SF paper. Subsequently he said he noted this personally as soon as the picture of the sketch was printed. Then it took him about two months to do anything.

Now on June 4 I gave Mark Lane, who I regard as a very poor specimen, a three-hour TV show I had already scheduled in DC, to help him launch his second book. I had agreed to this without knowledge of its contents and basic dishonesty. He there, as he has in the book, actually stole my material, this time to my face. He had a few words about it, much on the air. He then aired what Trent had done with those same pictures. When I tried to give you credit for having done that work, having the perception the others of us didn't, he asked what difference it made. I told him it made the difference between honesty and thievery. He then, utterly without shame, embarrassment or restraint, defended thievery, saying that all that counted was the use of the material! I have this on tape, off the air and in the studio.

On Rose and Turner: may I remind you that when I was there in early February I communicated my ~~xxxxxx~~ suspicions to you people and asked that a picture of Rose be taken (add Robert to his aliases), and that instead of doing it, instead of not telling me it would not be done, instead he was told? You now have this low opinion of Lifton. Remember, when he called me at your place, when he should have had no knowledge I was there, I warned you against him, told you that he had a spy inside your group, and look what you put him in a position to do to me by simply misrepresenting what you, voluntarily, gave him, knowing that he could not but misuse it? I say this not to chide you but because I am again going to ask you to do what can still be done about all of this, and to remind you that those who have a share in the creation of this bad and needless situation have a responsibility in preparing us to defend against it.

At what point does the fact that Turner never uses anything solid and always uses and passes on, persuades Garrison to use, become suspect? Is not his record undeviating? Did he not even plant a bum rap against the FBI on Jane and the "Free", eschewing its own use under his own name? No, too, do not charge he is an agent, but he could not have been an agent and been more successful, which is to say, more disastrous to the investigation. In not one case that I know of has he done the simple, basic checking, as with Bradley and that picture, Bradley in New Orleans, etc. He bled and milked the Garrison investigation and those helping it, keeping it always on the wrong track, always away from the essential New Orleans work, which remains undone on the eve of the trial. He also is responsible for the Lamarre fiasco, more than anyone else other than Garrison, who should have known better and paid no attention when I warned him, as I did in June, when I was there and later, in July, after reading part 5, by mail. You cannot read and believe that book! Not if you know anything about the field at all.

By the way, I would like you, in some detail, to give me a memo on what of your stuff was how used/misused by Lamarre. Also a separate one on your suspicions of Rose and what he did to assuage them. He even persuaded Jaffe when Jaffe was skeptical. This could be important, for Rose is connected with what we know he has been and with all this bad stuff and an enormous waste of time and money needed for other, viable work.

Lamarre: I really need, immediately, every scrap of information, no matter how seemingly inconsequential, about him and everything and everybody connected with him. At this point we must assume that his work, regardless of its auspices (and I have from the first believed CIA) has the potential, if not the intent, of causing a mistrial. We must therefore be prepared in the finest possible detail. I will haunt you if you do not do this, and if something like this happens, you will not be able to face yourself unless you now try. Not one of you, for example, told anyone, not even me when I spoke to some of you, that Jaffe had said (whether or not he did) he had given Lamarre the office copy of the Z film. If he did not do it and said he did, it is even worse than if he did. I found out only by accident, when I phoned Ray about something else, and he had two afterthoughts and was good enough to call me back twice. I must be prepared for this when I am in New Orleans. I will go there as soon as necessary after the hearing in Washington on the subpoena for the pictures and X-rays, which is this coming Friday, in Washington. The office will not have time to pay the slightest attention to this - has not - has no one with the kind of understanding to put on it anyway. They are leaving that up to me, and to date I have had some success with the limited time I can put on it. I can now connect Lamarre with the wrong (meaning the "right") people. This is not nearly enough. I need much more on it and everything else. Including those he mentioned, those he saw, what is wrong with the film, what you people told him, what he replied, etc. Everything, Fred, please believe me. It really is urgent. There is, in my opinion, ground in that film alone for a mistrial, unless it is properly and thoroughly answered.

That Mort said about Leemans is correct and there is nothing wrong with it unless he used it before the office released it. Art Kwin should have a copy of his affidavit. He did it voluntarily and it is much stronger than you say.

Steve Burton has sent me some valuable information about Lamarre, etc. Jaffe has not responded. I depend on you to do this completely and immediately. Marilyn is pretty sharp. Please have her do the same thing, each of you separately, in case it is necessary to know the source and one recalls what the other does not.

Also, suppose Turner is an agent? This suspicion is warranted by his record. If there is anything along this line I should know so that anything that might emerge at the trial ~~next~~ can be faced, please give me that, too. I understand what you may say is not to be taken as accusation.

My best to you all - and thanks.

Sincerely,
