Dear Arthur Martin:

The most recent letter arriving from you is dated October 24, 1997, and Mr. Weisberg replied under date of November 5. I attach a copy of the reply.

As you have been told, his health is not good and he tires easily. As he can, he continues on the work in which he is engaged in an effort to complete it as far as possible while he is still able.

If you continue to correspond with him, please make your letters short and limit your questions to the more important aspects of your research. He has always been willing to help people as much as possible, but he is unable now to do as much as he has done in the past.

Sincerely,

Lillian Weisberg

Dear Arthur Martin,

As I believe I've told you I've accumulated many years and with ~~him~~ them many and quite limiting problems. So please do not ask me to engaged in correspondence that means I'll have that much less of the little time that remains for me ~~to~~ for the work - still do.

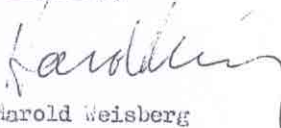

Roger Feinman is a lawyer. I've not heard from him in quite a few years now.

Black Star was in those days a well-known photo agency. They used photographers, of course, and Gene Danish was one.

I will not involve others who have their own busy lives in providing information on Hoax that does not add to what you have. Those I remember, besides teaching, are also trying to find time to write.

There are pictures of that shed-type building that was part of the TSBD but I am not aware of any taken of it separately. Parts of it show in other pictures.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg

Dear Mr. Weisberg,

Thank you for your prompt reply. I conveyed your thank you to Mr. Maugere.

I read your letter with great interest. To your knowledge, are there any pictures of the shed-type building on the west side of the TSBD? Furthermore, you mentioned that you completed a number of rough draft manuscripts that did not require access to your records and that some of them were retyped on computer by several college professors. Would you please name the professors (exclude Ginnochio, we have the Hoax manuscript) and also tell me where they teach so that I can communicate with them about the diskettes they have.

Thank you very much for the xeroxed copies of various photographs pertaining to the assassination. Especially, the sequence showing the installation of the curtain rods and curtains in Oswald's apartment 1026 N. Beckley.

Just exactly what kind of agency was the Black Star? Quite obviously, it had to do with photography since Mr. Danish was employed there as a photographer. Was it a small independent newspaper? How was it that he wound up at Oswald's apartment later that afternoon on November 22nd?

Is Roger Feinman a professor? If not, what is his profession? Where does he work? Do you have an address and/or telephone number for him? Thanks so much for all your help!

Sincerely,

Arthur Martin
