Jim Eckknley 7309 NW Maple Lane Kansas Lity, Wo. 64151

Dear Jim,

Your letter you dated the 8th, postmarked the 10th came today.

I would not have thought it but I guess you really do have less self-respect than a common where.

You tell me that "it is untrue that I plagiarised your work" after Playboy paid me $2,000 to do nothing about your stealing my JFK work alone?

After your duplication of this an my king work, which I presume contributed to your nice, lang Spanish vacation, live with yourself.

You write self-serving letters knowing that in my altuation I can't pay a lawyer.

"Sorry, but that was the nature of the beast" is your concession when you say! that "the series was historical, not investigative" and you claim that "assessination buffs (whatever that is) have complimented the courtesy." What else would one expect when you credit chatever you mean with work not theirs, as you did with what I trusted you not to use and to preserve confidence on? Courtesy?

To this you grap on reality further with "Finally it is true that you receive more mentions than any other investigator [she] and you were paid for your opinions and editing." But not for thenthievery thinly disguised with attribution to others. Not, in fact, for either editing, which I did not do, nor opinions, which I would not expect Playboy to be interested in.

I don't believe I have ever laid claim to "sole windom." I believe, howevery tjat I am entitled to the use of my own work, no matter what Playboy's wealth of that purt of it that might with wretches like you who are incapable of original work and are reduced to common thievery when it was not necessary to existence.

Having said nothing a man, a real man, could stand on, you almost conclude with "I have nothing more to day."

I don't know what I can do. I have the tapes I've told you about. I have the letters I've told you about. But the simple fact is that when those like you whose records disgrace those who are literally where are the kinds of miserable basterds you are it does require wealth I do not have to attempt redress. If I can find the means, I will do what is possible.

I guess it is in keeping with your true character, what I did not detect, that you append the handwritten not, "I hope your thrombies abandons your leg and leaves that, as least, in peace." Would it were possible. That damage was beyond repair before I was hospitalized

If you know anything about anything, you would have known this. But as a thing thief who fattens by stealing for others, you have jo original inouladge.

labe with yourself.

Thatbis about curse enough.

Sincercly.
