Dear Jim. 11/12/74

Except for these to whom you may speak, as you ence indicated you might, in an effort to assist the Ray defense, I have to ask that this remain confidential, At least for the time being.

It is as I talk you earlier today when you referred to Bud's letter to you of the 4th. he did not discuss it with Lesar and there is no way I can conceive of he could have discussed it with Idvingston. He did not discuss it with no.

I wainted until Jin phased me. I then asked kin. Negative. However, typically for but, within the past few days he made passing and elliptical reference that he could later claim to Jin was reference to this matter.

I have heard nothing from him since he laft for the sirpert in Mamphia, leaving the cleaning up to dis and me. He is supposed to pay expenses. I still ment the repayment of since from the trip before this past one, when Jin'n and my expenses both went on my Managemericard. Advancing this mency for but and my even out-of-pecket expenses on the last trip has cleaned us out. We live shall I may measurily on my wife's income for two days of work a wook. Thus I did not phone Jim immediately as I would have liked after you phoned.

"t is Jin's belief that in writing you on the fourth had was responding to a proposal you made last Ammet. Of this I know nothing. Jin will make copies of it for me. Jin's balief is that the eld proposal was not acceptable.

As you know, it also has nothing to do with what you and I talked about. had knows nothing of that because it has not been possible to talk to him. When I could not get him mights because he was partying during the hearing and he had to question witnesses who were total strangers to him based on my late-night drafting of questions, I think you can understand that there was much loss communication than there could and should have been during the hearing.

After we speke in Kesphis I did exactly what I teld you I would. I speke to Ray, who was unenthusiastic because he just doesn't trust any of the press. But on my recommendation he agreed. Jin was present for part or all of this. Bud, whose merging sleep was more important than visiting the client he saw little of, was never there early in the a.m. Prior to discussing it with Ray I had discussed it with Jin, who also read both your nates. (Bud, in fact, insisted an having his room on a different floor so we would have less contact.) New I heard from May just yesterday. He made no neution of any conversation with Bud relating to this and if Bud had made a contrary recommendation I am without doubt that Ray would have ruled it with me.

In short, the 11/4 letter you take we about is nows to all the rest of us and is not in accord with the bulief the rest of us have, in Ray's case probably only because he trusts my judgement on it free provious experience, not free percent enthusiasm. It has no relevance to mything you and I discussed, he of today, in is natisfied there a) if nothing wrong with the formula I gave you and b) much that serves kay's interests in it am nephing that doesn't. I am without doubt that you and your people are similarly satisfied.

Locar and I, who have done virtually all the work and all the important work, have and have had three major problems in all think financing it, coping with had's insanities, slackjum and ego, and with Edvingston's stupidition and insanities, too effected and abouted by Mad. The whole grany Cliff business was essent free us.

How much longer of ther beaut or I can but up with those conditions I don't know. I do tell you that my own sacrifices are not only financial and working free, no pay at all or of any kind. I have had to abandon other work, of which the book about to appear is but one example. I was in Momphis doing work Bud should have done (and of which he is not capable) instead of my own work while he was junketing in Europe the end of Septysber and early October. Fighting the State and county, if not the feds and the others of interest and influence, like Foreman and Rule, is more than too much without having to held senior counsel in line.

It is not only literally true that I and to keep both Bud and idvingaton human from sepaing out thomight of 10/28 but I have getten Ray to rebire had after he fired him.

At some point this has to end. Doing the work on the case is too much for Min and se when we are both without income without Jin having to smallow all the staff he has to or for me, now that Jin has had more experience, to dump the whole load on him.

This loads to the real question, how can we finance the defense if Bud's part of the expenses disappear with him?

It is a very real problem.

The situation is so had I've wanted to get out since early 1971. However, I feel I can't.

Nemetheless, what you report is another and an entirely intelerable situation. I will address it as seen as I can. I expect this may be this coming Friday. I go to Washington early when I must, partly because I can't afford the travel and partly because of all the work I do try to do. However, I have necical and optical appointments this Friday. I will get together with Jim. I've already arranged to. And with Bad. And find out why.

Hy hunch is that Bud will present so real problem and that he will agree, whether or not he wants to. It is not only that he has been actively promoting himself and himself alone when he has done virtually no work on the case - and being paid for it, too, as by Esquire, by the piece Haile used against us - and thus is without reasonable basis for not agreeing. It is also that what we discussed is in Ray's interest and is otherwise socially useful.

If Bud is not available Friday I will write him when I get home. I'll send you a copy.

All of this convinces we even more of the correctness of the approach I suggested to you, that you begin by gutting the necessary background. Should you agree and should you desire to come here the weekend of Friday, 11/22 (our pub date)), I have a 9 a.m. appointment in BC for my annual medical checkup and can next you at the sirport thereafter.

As you know, I spoke to the press only worth the understanding that anything I said was for background only. I was not unce quoted, not once on TV and it was my idea. Mobely suggested or asked it. More, I believe in eas't begin to get adequate credit for the fine work he has done.

The needs of the defence and the realities of the mituation make me believe that this also will have to change. Purhaps searthing 'in said to a reporter when he was a bit unceel may bring it to pass. We told me of it only this evening.

If you or your people have any doubt about the foregoing, either literally or in any reasonable extension, planse feel free to phone Jim. Only not before 10:30 a.m. DC time. He works until early into the merning.

He is to send you our joint book, perhaps did tonight.

Best remarks.

ec: Jim Lesar
