 The Air Force is preparing to dump 10 million gallons of vegetation and crop-killing poison over South Vietnam in the year beginning this July, officials say.
 The move represents a broadening of the chemical warfare effort to strip jungle cover from and deny food to throughout the South.
 An Air Force spokesman said the use of lawn and garden weed killers used by American homeowners. Chemical producers last year were reported strapped just to keep up with defense orders.

 Air Force officials told Congress last week the chemicals required for Vietnam operations in fiscal 1969 will cost $775 million, an increase of $24.5 over the fiscal 1968 figure.
 In 1967 the Air Force bought $36.5 million in defoliants and herbicides to spray over enemy or enemy-used territory in South Vietnam.
 Defense Department statistics give this breakdown of acres treated with defoliants	84,517 (327); 1964—53,573 (10,136); 1965—54,726 (49,637); 1966—775,894 (112,678); 1967—17,119 (717); 1968 —
