. By GEORGE NOBBE

cisl dropouts, snarlingly against everything the square world is for. And they can be savage, so savage that five of them are accused of nailing a girl's hands to a tree because she couldn't come up with $10 when the gang wanted it. and obscene. They're complete so-These are the Outlaws, a sex-flaunt-g, chain-wielding band of motorcycle Day 9 THE BEACH, FLA., Dec. 2-They're dirty, hairy

So far, the nomadic gang, offshoots of Culifornia's Hell's Angels, have been charged with or implicated in prostitution, narcotics, car theft, stolen credit cards, had checks phony money orders, grand larceny and chain whippings.

But it was the crucifixion two weeks ago of 18-year-old Christine Desse of West Palm Beach that really brought toughs whose forays through Florida have provoked Gov. Claude Kirk's per-sonal pledge to run them out of the state.

The freekin-faced, reducted girl was nailed by both hands to a tree branch, her tons barely reaching the ground, in a remote woods near Jupiter, Fla.
Fire silent grinning Outlaws sat in PAMS. the wrath of Gov. Kirk down on the Out-a semi-circle in front of her, watching for 15 minutes, police said, before they finally pulled out the 4-inch nails and let her go.

李城市还确实在。

Names Assailants

The territied girl, who at first told police and hospital doctors that she had fullen on a board with nails in it, reductantly accused James (Spider) Owing, 25, of Tampa, and Frank (Fax Frank) Link of Cypress, Calif. Both were picked up by West Palm Beach Sherift's deputies within hours.

The other three were arrested last week in a Detroit clubheuse the Outlaws shurs with another gang, the Renegades.

They are John (Crazy John) Wables, 24, of Warren, Mich., who sports a goid

The Outland got a personal pledge from Florida's governor to run them out of the state. Bar owner Kitty Randall and Outlaw motorcycle club president Donald (Dake) Tanner.

roug in ms nose, Joseph (Super Squirrei)
Sarshy Jv., 19, of Houston, and Danaid (Mangy) Graves, 18, of Detroit.
With Floride's tourist image in the back of his mind, Gov. Kirk got out of bel at 2:30 last Monday morning and flew Jown from Tallahassee to be on hand when the three Outlaws yearhed West Palm Beach.

In an airport waiting room, he bluntly laid it on the line for the West Palm Outlaws as well as similar groups that have operated for the last seven months in Tampa, St. Petersburg and Fort Lauderdale.

"We are not going to tolerate your kind in Florida any more. You left that girl hanging to a tree and I want to make an example of this thing," Kirk

With that, the three Outlaws kissed, a tribal custom usually staged only when there are photographers around, and were driven off to the county jail to join Link, Owings and five other gang members, not as yet implicated in the crucilixion.

Cycle Veteran

They include the club president, Donald (Deke) Tanner, 26, a New Bedford, Masa, veberan of at least seven similar motocycle gangs across the country; convicted killer John P. Luke II; and three girls, Katherine Elizabeth Stroh and Ernestine Josephine Popp, both 18, and Tanner's pregnant wife, Penny, 28.

All of them are charged with possession of maripuane. Tonner, who got his micknown from preaching in the Army, and Katherine, a onetime suppremarket casher, also are accessed in the theft of $5,700 from her employer.

Bail, which has reached $24,000 in Tanner's case, has been denied most of the Outlaws by local bondsmen whose insurance companies are no longer willing to take a chance on the gang.

began a year ago, when four members of the now defunct Hell's Angels, including Luke, invaded a migrant labor camp in Pompano Beach.

They were seeking revenge for a LORIDA'S troubles with them really

They were seeking revenge for a beating given two club members near the camp, but in the brawl that followed, an 11-year-old girl, Catalina Flores, was shob and killed, apparently by mistake. The result was that three of them, including Luke, who is appealing his seatence, got 5 to 10-year jail terms.

The south wife dissolved. branch of Hell's Angels was summarily Another, James Purkhiser, faces death in the electric chair. Thus the Florida

Last spring, however, Deke Tanner roared into West Pain Beach on what the Outlaws call a "chopped hog," a stripped down, severely modified Harley-bavidson motorcycle worth close to es too and motorcycle worth close to Davidson motorcycle worth close to $2,500 and capable of speeds up to 150 miles an hour

Sheriff William Heidtman says Tan-ner's assignment from the club's na-tional leadership—it supposedly has 1,109 members—was to reorganize the renegade cycle clubs in Florida under the colors of the Outlaws. He set about 1,100 memberswith a vengeance. has the

His recruits came from several gangs, the Iron Cross Club, the Half Breeds, the Cossacks and the Outcasts, to mame a few, and soon itinerant riders began arriving from Michigan, Illinois, Kentucky, California, Tennessee, Texas and Indiana.

OUTCAST leaders Edward (Chopper)
Jones and Ernest (Speed) Skovenson, sometimes known as "Tampa's No. I vagrant," drummed up enough support for independence to defeat a merger Some of the existing clubs were absorbed by the Outlaws, Others, like the Outlasts, retained a certain autonomy, riding with the Outlaws from time to time while maintaining a separate club between the control of the structure. 4

The organization methods Tanner used were right out of the Hell's Augels' handbook. If the milder-mannered local clubs didn't like them, they never uttered a word. proposal by five votes.

a clubhouse in a seedy roadside beer joint, called Kitty's Saloon, on Route AIAs dozen miles north of West Palm Beach in Juno. The erstwhile Army "deacon" set up hadn't been too good anyway, so she rented a dozen motel-style efficiency cabins behind the building at $10 a week each and trased in the use of a huge, cement-block warehouse for nothing. wasn't given a chance to select her cus-The owner, a bleached blonde named Bertha (Kitty) Randall, a mother of three who is separated from her husband, They just moved in. Business

The Outlaws' insignia, called "the colors," is a skull and crossed pistons. The uniform consists of a sleeveless denin jacket without a shirt underneath, or a leather jacket, worn with levia held up by a belt of heavy steel cycle drive-chains, and boots standard trappings: All this is smeared with the requisita of American motorcyclists who just don't care about law and order; and a whole array of symbols and numbers standing for a variety of sexual pseuharities. ond means its weaver uses marijuana, a patch reading "15%er," indicating its owner helps comprise that tiny minority Swastikus, Iron Grosses, such senti-mentul slogans as "Santa Claus Is Dead", the number 15, which stands for the latter M, thirteenth in the alphabet, ond means

* 雅

To join, the applicant has to own a bike, although non-owners are occasionally accorded probationary status, especially if the club treasury is running low.

Low Dues, Too

Dues are $2 a week, supposedly to pay for parties, although in recent months all the spare cash has gone to bail club members out of jail.

club decisions are promptly carried out. In addition to Tanner, the Outlaw hierarchy includes a pair of vice presidents, a secretary and two sergeants at arms, called enforcers, who make sure and 50 members. Most of them don't work except for casual jobs as mechan-Membership fluctuates d 50 members. Most of between 35 of them don't

The girls they attract, called "old ladies," turn over the money they earn as salesgirls, cashiers, beautitians, secretaries or whatever in return for the privilege of club acceptance. It's a tidy income. Tanner, for instance, claims he hasn't worked since reaching Florids.

"Why should I?" he is fond of brag-ging. "I got four old ladies giving me their money every week."

I And that's not all they give, according to club members who say that three to a bed is not unusual in the motor-cycle jungle, where an old lady survives only by being obedient.

If two Outlaws want to stake their old ladies on a game of pool, the loser's girl goes along with the decision just as she would if her own old man sold her for a week to raise money for some Fifty dollurs is the going rate for a worldy rental, says Chief of Detectives William Bennett, who also desorbed a motorcycle parts.

unique sexual endurance event, called alread, involving any number of seul and one girl." For a girl to sort of thing is to risk t

Reporters found out how deeply in-grained female discipline is when they

t shout this the fats of

of seules

According to Bounett, the Outlawn aren't above sending their old ladies down to Miami to raise cush as prostitutes in the shaddier hotels that the interviewed the few girls who would talk about the crucifixion. One pretty, 22-year-old snarted renomously, "They should have nailed her feet, too,"

"When an Outlaw tells one of his old ladies to go out and get some money, he doesn't care what she does to get it, but she knows she has to come hack with something." Bennett said. "Christine didn't, and look what happened." syndicate isn't interested in.

Oddly, most of the old lating come from respectable middle-class families. Why do they take up with the Outlaws? "These people live from day to day." Sheriff Heidtman said. "They don't back ahead and they don't worry about the future. The girls see some sort of strange glamor in the dangerous way these people live.

"They like the one-for-all and all-forone attitude, and they fall for the lines that these guys are willing to die for one another."

the Outlaws' scatalogical initiation ceremonies, bizarre rites that involve rubbing urine and excrement on the jacket insignia of the nex member. The unwritten law that a member can stead anything he wants for his bike except anything his bike except anything he wants for his bike except anything engine—which can be traved—doesn't disturb them either, nor do the asvage chain whippings that make gang rumbles bloody affairs.

Kitty's Saloon when neighbors com-plained about the thunderous bellow of the juke box and the roar of the Outlays' bikes doing one-wheel takeouts, called wheelstands, in the parking lot. Kitty's was kept under constant sucody affairs.

Florida police began to move in on thy's Saloon when neighbors com-veillance, with a prowl car in the parking lot at nightfall. Outlaws foolish or stobborn enough to venture on the highway on their bikes were harassed with traffic tickets that cloud them for driving without crash helmets and gaugles.

Tanner became so incoused that he Accused in crucifixion and arrested after they fled to Detroit were Douald (Mangy) Graves, John (Crazy John) Wables and Joseph (Super Squirrel) Sorsby Ir., l. to r. above. Taken from them by Sheriff William Heidtman, who holds 12. inch dagger, were chain belts being examined by Gov. Claude Kirk. On floor are jackets emblazoned with Outlaws' insignia, called "colors" [->>].

"The West Palm Beach cops don't wear crash helmets and if they don't I'm not going to. What's good for the goose is good for the gander. There are a thousand people in the Outlaws and if they can't come to visit me without getting busted before they get off their busted before they get off their stormed into the sheriff's office early in November and, reading from a small notebook, reeled off a list of grievances that ended in this ringing denunciation:

Billie Haskell, whose husband, Gino, is in the county Jail for using obscene this way. "I never saw any marijuana, my old man never beat me up.

Song of THEH WHE WENT WENG PLT saying we had orgies up here and all that—but not when I was around, All the trouble started when Deke brought "There's a lot of people going around

"You think that if you get a then-said eneles down here they'll be hard to central and you're right."

a chain belt when he tried to stop him from putting up a sign that read: "Pri-vate property. Trespassers will be shot." bar, armed with automatic rifles. In another, a badly frightened deputy fired a shot at Tanner's feet because he said the Outlaw chieftan had threatened him with a chain belt when he tried to stop him and put three lookouts on the roof of the one raid that followed this out Heidtman claimed the Outlaws

Cops Lock Club

Just before Thanksgiving, the state closed Kitty's place, accusing her of maintaining a disorderly house. They also closed several of her cabins on the grounds that they were Hithy.

The move came in the wake of one of those flying visits to West Palm that Gov. Kirk is fond of.

"It was the crucifixion that had brought him, but the sight of girls' names scrawled in paint above a half dozen beds in the clubhouse at the back of the saloon did just as much to shatter his composure.

The dispossessed Outlaws promptly moved into Tanner's house on Shawnee Drive in the West Gate section of the city until he and a half dozen more were arrested there in a narcotics raid.

Some of the Outlaws still live on Kity's property in the few cabins that weren't shuttered. Kitty herself is furious at the sheriff, the Governor and anyone to do with the law.

She called the Governor an "uncouth bally." "I'm being put right in the middle," she said. "I owe $1,500 in taxes, I have a mortgage payment coming un, I've got three kids who aren't going to have any Christmas because there isn't say money coming in."

"There were a few bad ones, sure, schizos, I guess, but I never had any trouble with them. may they are "These kids aren't as bad as people y they are," she said in an interview st week in her Juno Beach home.

"They say there was a lot of mari-juna in my place, but I never saw any. Anyone could come in and have a beer place away." and then they didn't bother them. more sods then I did beer,

1.4.9.性抗

THE PARTY OF

mulbedy they beat up had it coming, he was looking for trouble."
"So they wear swastikas, and all that. So do the surfers and no one hothers them," she said, looking wist-fully at the three high-powered bikes that remain on Kitty's property, awaiting their jailed owners.

"We told the girl [Christine Decse] to go home." Billie said, "but she wouldn't. She knew what was going to happen to her, she knew before she got in the car and she went."

"She was some kind of masochist or something," Kitty put in, groping for the word. "She was always getting beat up and she'd keep coming back. She wouldn't listen to me."

BIG JIM NOLAN, an Outlaw vice presi-dent from Fort Lauderdale and a New Jerseyan with two years of college before he went south 12 years ago, blannes politics and Gov, Kirk.

"So we have long hair and beards. Well, so did Jesus Christ and he's been around a lot longer than Gov. Kirk. He's a let of mouth. So he closed up Kitty's, big deal, so he's got 18 upright citizens now," he said, alluding to the Outlaws? membership rolls.

We're Not Hippies!

"I'll give you a stone quote. Mayba we're not the sweetest people in the world, but we're people. We're not a bunch of hippies and we're not burning up our draft cards. I got mine and a lot of the guys have been in the service. "It gets cold up north, that's why we came down here. All we want to do is be left alone and ride our bikes. We're bike people. If we heat up as many people as they say we have, every punk who's wise or belligerent, we'd be punching up 24 hours a day.

"The only mistake we made was having our club in a public building. Florida's a very bad place to do anything. You get in a fist fight in a bar in New York and nobody says anything. Down here it can cost you 10 or 15 years of your life.
"All we want to do is fix up our putts [cycles] so they don't look like anybody else's. That club, it's just something to spends most of his time trying collect ball money for his friends, ri cules tales of sexual in region a orgies as "hogwash." [cycles] so they don't look like anybody else's. That club, it's just something to collect to," he said.

Big Jim, who as an Outlaws officer ridi-

Sheriff's deputies lead four chained and handcuffed Outlaws into county jail in West Palm Beach. They are, I. to r., James (Spider) Owings, Frank (Fat Frank) Link, John (Shades) Luke II, and Tanner, in dark sweater.

"Look, the governor comes darging into Kritty's and he sees that swastika on Dele's jacket and he says. What do you do for a living? Well, Deke's a little tired of questions like that, so he says. "Who, me? I'm a pimp."

"Well, that has no type of meaning whatsoever. It's just to blow his mind, but the Governor believes it, that's the real mind snapper.

"We're just playing games with their minds. Deke and Shades [John Luke], they're playing all sorts of funny games with the citizens. They'll say anything. Like Speed, when they picked him up, he said, 'If you want to talk to me about your mind.' tacking that chick to a tree, you're outta alone, about, and the kissing, it's just to shock the citizens because they won't leave us "That's what all the swastika stuff is

"Deke, he goes over to Sebring on Labor Day and gets busted just because he's on a bike instead of in a Ford wear-ing a thribanca's sweater." ing a turtleneck sweater.

Big Jim explains: Ask him about the crucifixion and doesn't mean we all go around nailing people to trees. If I'd been there, I would have stopped it. This is one big "In any group you're gonna have somebody messing up. Just because there are a couple of nuts up there would have stopped it, nightmare," gonna have custody, police are holding her in has just begun. On both are partially For Christine Deese, the nightmare s just begun. One hand is infected, paralyzed and protective

Last week, an anonymous telephone caller told the sheriff:

"When that girl gets out her life won't be worth a plugged nickel."

