

5/17/97

Dear Bill,

David Lange is the former New Zealand Labour prime minister. If you hear from Dal please send him what I thought he had, Waketh on a disk, and let me know the cost.

^{Lange's} His government refused to let anything nuclear into the harbors. The French sank the Rainbow Warrior when it was in a NZ harbor. How happy I am that my friend Matt Herron, a Greenpeace navigator, was not the navigator on that Greenpeace ship that was preparing to draw attention to French nuclear explosions in the South Pacific.

If it is not clear, Lange said, on NZ TV, that his life had been threatened by a US Navy official.

He did not respond when Dal wrote him about it but he did speak to his sister-in-law, a friend of Dal's. So, Dal has gone to some expense to get me a videocassette of that program.

Jerry is tied up this weekend with school. Probably with luck he can find time this coming week. Then I'll play the show and make an audio tape of it.

Thanks and best, and hope you pick the "reakness right!

Harold