Dear Mr. Newton,

If I led you to believe that we are selling the few remaining copies of Oswald in New Orleans for $10.00 I will do that. However, please do not tell anyone else this because we are selling them at $21.00, which is the cost to us of replacing them electrostatically.

You ask my opinion of Sauvage's The Oswald Affair. The book must be evaluated not as of the time it appeared in the United States but as of the time it was written and published in France. (He added a little for the U.S. edition.) For that period it was quite good. I disagree with his conjectures, however, and know nothing at all to support them.

Thanks for the invitation to dinner at Peter Pan. It is kind of you. However, our lives are quite restricted until after 4/15. My wife is a tax consultant. She is already so busy she is working seven days a week and every night. We thus have no social life at all.

How do you know this part of the state so well? We used to live four miles from Peter Pan.

There is a similar place neared here, less than three miles away. However, it does not serve drinks.

On the other hand, there is never the long wait one sometimes faces at Urbana. An appointment for a table at an agreed time is kept at Dan-Dee, which is on Route 40 about 5-7 miles west of the Holiday Inn.

But they can clog up on Sundays. We did before gas got tight.

We appreciate your invitation. Perhaps we can make it after tax season.

Sincerely,
